Our Supervisors: Big Spenders From The West

Supervisor Mel F. Nielsen flew more, drove more, ate more and lodged in hotels more frequently at county expense than any other member of the board in fiscal 1961-62.

These are some of the reason's that Supervisor Nielsen cost the taxpayers over $3000 more than any of his supervisorial peers.

The total cost of our supervisors in 1961-62, The Sun found this week, was $135,471.50. These are the men who earned and spent it, and the amounts involved:

Mel F. Nielsen, Lafayette, District 2: $18,880.84.

Chairman James P. Kenny, Richmond, District 1: $15,265.49.

Joseph F. Silva, Brentwood, District 5: $14,276.26.

Edmund A. Linscheid, Pittsburg, District 4: $13,893.88.

Thomas J. Coll, Concord, District 3: $13,522.86.

Some $51,419.65 was spent by the board as a whole for such items as publication of notices, memberships, office expenses, professional and personal services and printing.

IN ADDITION, the board's assistant clerk received a salary of $7008, and listed expenses at $1204.59.

Both Nielsen and Kenny employed one full-time office worker, whose salary is included in the supervisors' totals. Nielsen paid his "girl Friday" $4290, while Kenny paid his $3720.59.

Other suprevisors employed part-time office help for the following amounts:

Coll, one office worker at 24 hours per week, $2750.80.

Linscheid, one at 27½ hours per week, $4137.51.

Silva, one at 15 hours per week, $1999. (The clerk also holds several other county positions; her salary is not included in the supervisors' budget.)

PART OF NEILSEN'S high is explained by the high depreciation charged to his name on his taxpayer - purchased 1961 Pontiac.

The Supervisors' cars: Silva, 1961 Oldsmobile; Linscheid, 1961 Pontiac; Kenny, 1959 DeSoto (in fiscal 1961-62); Coll, 1959 Ford.

Both Silva and Nielsen were involved in accidents whose expense was initially charged to the taxpayers through them. Damage to Nielsen's car was $480, $576 to Silva's. (Claims have been filed on both accidents; so far, the county has collected on the Silva accident, according to the Public Works Department.)

Another Nielsen high in the County Auditor's analysis of supervisors' expenditures: communications, at $917.89. Nielsen, the only supervisor who must maintain a business phone not connected with the county switchboard, is followed at long distance by Kenny, who spent $348.57.

BUT THE BIGGEST extra in the Nielsen budget is the legislative jaunt. The man from District 2 spent more than twice as much as any other supervisor for trips through the states and nation: $1373.16.

In addition, that part of his car expense not taken up by depreciation, accidental damages, and maintenance went for travel. The total: $2660.49. For car expenses, Nielsen's nearest challenger is Silva, who also had an accident: $2184.14.

No one comes near Nielsen in non-automotive travel, however. Chairman Kenny, in second place, spent $633.45, while Linscheid doled out $282.90 for travel expenses. Stay-at-home Coll and Silva spent $85 and $69.81, respectively.

SUPERVISORS, when traveling, frequently pay expenses from their own pockets and bill the county at month's end. In order to collect, they must show evidence of such expenditures as fares, hotel bills and meeting or convention registration, according to Assistant County Auditor Don Funk.

They are not required, however, to present bills for meals, taxis, tolls, tips or other small expenses, Funk told The Sun.

Because Nielsen's trips to Washington and Chicago, Kenny's to Chicago and Linscheid's to Phoenix represented a large portion of supervisorial travel expenses during 1961-62, the ways in which these fares are purchased and paid for are of particular interest.

FUNK TOLD The Sun that the superivsors have set a policy requiring all county employees to travel jet tourist class. They may travel first class only if it is impracticable or impossible to do otheriwse.

And the auditors or purchasing agents see proof of class of travel for all employees—except the supervisors themselves.

The supervisors, unlike the rest of the employees, commonly buy their tickets through private travel agencies, which in turn bill the county.

"But," said Funk, "the supervisors' policy does not really apply to the supervisors themselves, since they are the policy-makers and changers."

AT THE SAME TIME, Purchasing Agent John Conklin said that first class is "standard operating procedure" for supervisors. Travel agencies used by the supervisors had no comment.

Both Nielsen and Kenny attended the National Association of County Officials convention in Chicago, August 13-16, 1961. Beyond their plane fares, Nielsen spent $101.06, Kenny $104.95. Nielsen's five-day "water trip" to Washington ran $133.82, independent of fares.

In January of the following year, Supervisor Linscheid represented the board at the Association workshops in Phoenix, at a total cost of $66.51 for three days, not counting fares.

Silva, who "doesn't ask for most of his expenses," according to Funk, spent $50 at the County Supervisors 51st Annual Convention in San Francisco in October, 1961.

THE SAME gathering cost Kenny $69.75, Nielsen $92.89 and Linscheid $70.29. Coll apparently did not attend—or, if he did, spent nothing.

In a board budget which includes items such as $65,000 for salaries and $27,000 for publication of notices, one smaller expenditure stands out: specialized printing, for which the board jointly spent $1680.54.

A footnote explains the expense for the curious taxpayer: "Cost of the tax information folder which is distributed to taxpayers."

Easy Come, Easy Go...

The legislative "jaunt", practiced on all levels of American government, is a controversial phenomenon on each level. Some maintain that our representatives can learn what they need to know by mail and telephone.

Others favor the jaunt: "How else can we keep our representatives from becoming even more provincial?"

Whether for or against the firmly entrenched practice, taxpayers may be interested in the costs of sample county jaunts which The Sun found in fiscal 1961-62 auditor's records last week.

For example, Supervisor Mel F. Nielsen of District II spent $2 for breakfast; $7.50 for lunch; $5.50 for dinner, and $6 for a taxi one day while in Washington.

Medical Office on Norwood Opposed

Planners to Inspect Site For Doctor's Home-Office

Next Friday, the County Planning Commission will make a field trip to 9 Northwood Drive to examine the site for which Dr. Carl W. Smith has applied for a land use permit.

Dr. Smith, who has practiced medicine and lived in Orinda for over 13 years, wishes to establish his medical office in a private home in the residentail district.

The proposed office would be on the southwest corner of Northwood Drive and Northwood Court in Moraga Estates, Orinda. Mrs. Alta Junge is owner of the property.

THREE ORINDANS appeared in protest of the request at a meeting of the County Board of Adjustment January 3. They were: Harry Fledderman, new president of the Orinda Association; George Knudsen and James B. Turner, residents of 20 and 17 Northwood Drive, respectively.

They said that the site was a residential area and no businesses should be allowed.

The three-man board of adjustment at the public hearing was composed of Timothy Lynch, Donald Ward, and Robert Elliott. Making the field trip next Friday will be the seven members of the planning commission.

The three-man board will render a decision at a closed hearing January 22.

DR. SMITH wishes to convert only the "lower rear level" of the home for an office. The upstairs will remain a residence.

The front of the home is one story, and it is two stories in the rear. He stated that there was ample parking space available since a vacant adjacent lot went with the property.

"This wouldn't increase the congested parking on Northwood Drive since there is adequate parking on the property itself," said Dr. Smith. "We certainly share the wishes of the community to control and have well-directed business expansion planning."

"We do not feel that having my office in my residence would be detrimental to the neighborhood in any way. It is not opposed by any of the immediate neighbors," he said.

It adjoins commercial property: the office behind Black's Market & McIntyre's service station, according to Dr. Smith.

"THE PARKING area would be suitably shielded from sight from any adjacent residential property . . . We would certainly not want the place where we live to be objectionable in any way to surrounding residential property," he said.

"As far as a traffic problem: I don't believe that a maximum of a few cars an hour would not present a hazard," Dr. Smith added.

Exterior of the home would not be altered except for general refurbishing and repainting, according to a letter written by Mrs. Carl W. (Ramona) Smith to the planners.

"We are accustomed to living graciously and I hope that we may continue to do so," wrote Mrs. Smith.

The Smiths and their two children now reside at 52 Via Floreada.

THEY CURRENTLY bought another home at 15 Northwood Drive: the former residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald T. Larsen. This transaction is now in escrow, and will be completed in about 10 days, according to Mrs. Larsen.

Purchase of the Larsen property was an "investment and had nothing to do" with the land use permit request, according to Mrs. Smith. She stated that they felt the fenced orchard of the Larsen property would be an excellent playground for the Smiths' two children.

The establishment of medical offices is one of the categories which applicants are permitted to file a request for a land use permit, according to Robert Hodgson, assistant county planner who works with the board of adjustment.

Under subsection B of Section 8147, there are uses listed as to which type of establishments may go in a residential (R-A) district upon the issuance of a land use permit.

"MEDICAL AND dental offices" is the seventh on the list. It includes "medical clinics."

Others include: Hospitals and convalescent homes; churches; parochial and private schools (including nursery schools); community building; clubs of quasi public, social, fraternal or recreational—not for monetary profit; and public owned buildings.

Mercury Stays Down There!

"Very cold for January," say the natives. Following is the weekly rise and fall of the mercury in Orinda:

	High	Low

Saturday	65	33
Sunday	55	32
Monday	60	34
Tuesday	65	32
Wednesday	57	35
Thursday	59	33

Chamber Has First Meet

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce convened yesterday at Casa Orinda for its first meeting of the new year.

President Ed Amatrone stated that the chamber would ask the county to speed up painting of stripes in the parking stalls in the business section.

He also said that the chamber would press the state to put the bus turn-out again out to bid.

The turn-out was approved by the state. However, the bid was higher than alloted so it will be put out to bid early this spring according to State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack.

Tickets on Sale For Betz Banquet

Tickets are now on sale for the banquet to honor Clarence Betz, The Sun's "Man of the Year" for Orinda for 1962.

It will be January 24 at Mike Lynn's. Dinner will be served at 8 p.m. with the social "hour" starting at 7:30 p.m.

Members of Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce, hosts for the dinner, are selling tickets for $4.25 each. This includes tax and tip, according to Jaycees coordinator for the dinner, Lyle Deck.

State Senator George P. Miller, Jr. will be speaker for the event.

Editor and Publisher of The Sun, Herman Silverman, will present Betz with the award.

Jacyees President Dave McCosker will preside.

Tickets may be ordered by writing 1216 Warner Court, Lafayette, or phoning 934-0268.

"Tickets are going fast," says Deck.

The fire commissioners of the Orinda County Fire District postponed their regular meeting, January 24, so that they may attend the banquet. Betz is secretary-treasurer of the commission.

Ashes From Your Fireplace Can Spell 'Danger'

A winter fire hazard was brought to the attention of Orindans this week by Fire Chief Al Winsor.

"Three fires in Orinda within the past few months have been caused by the dangerous practice of cleaning out the fireplace and putting the ashes in a cardboard carton," according to Winsor.

"Ashes in a fireplace will stay warm up to one week," said Winsor.

Caldecott Break-Thru Wednesday

At 11:45 Wednesday night a small wall of earth gave way before workmen's tools, and Caldecott Bore number three became a tunnel.

Workmen on the scene were jubilant over the break-through, and so were motorists who looked forward to a faster route through the notorious bottleneck.

The break-through came almost 18 hours earlier than the prediction for late afternoon yesterday. Engineers promised to prop up a little dirt for the benefit of photographers frustrated by the advance completion of the 3300-foot hole.

The work has been carried forward under the supervision of Harry Greshuk, perhaps the world's most famous "tunnel stiff".

Cerebral Palsy Drive

PRETTY EIGHT year old Lynn Carol Banerian, 1963 "Poster Girl" of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Contra Costa Fund Campaign, points happily to volunteer badge worn by Fire Chief Al Baitx of Moraga. Mrs. Bernard Hildebrand of Moraga looks on. Local firehouses will be utilized as "turn in" stations for "March on Cerebral Palsy" being conducted in the county January 15 to 20.

Oakland Mayor Demands Eastbay Transit Office

Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan threatened Wednesday to try to block construction of the Bay Area Rapid Transit System if its administration and engineering offices are established in San Francisco.

Houlihan's demand for a complete reversal of present transit office plans was made as he persuaded the Alameda Mayors Conference to adopt a resolution urging location of the offices in the Eastbay.

The district is expected to firm up plans for the subway portion of the San Francisco leg of the system on July 1.

Houlihan's resolution was adopted by the Alameda conference unanimously. The Oakland mayor claimed that downtown San Francisco was not "hurting for tenants," and that office space is much cheaper in the Eastbay than across the bridge.

James K. Dobey Is Promoted

The promotion of James K. Dobey to vice president in charge of Wells Fargo Bank's new peninsula division with headquarters in San Jose, was announced recently by the bank.

Dobey, 43, and his family left Orinda in 1961 when he became vice president and assistant manager of the San Jose branch.

Dobey joined the bank in 1946 and until the promotion, headed the San Jose main office.

Want To Do Something About All-Digit Dialing?

Do you want to do something about all-digit dialing?

Do you want to correct the mistake the phone company has made before it spreads to unsuspecting areas throughout the county?

If you don't like the new system, you can voice your opinion by clipping out the coupon below and sending it to "All-Digit Dialing Protests," Public Utilities Commission, 350 McAllister, San Francisco.

AND, IF you don't want to waste a five-cent stamp mailing it from home, drop your coupon off at The Sun offices in Walnut Creek (1320 Locust Street) or in Lafayette (1001 Oak Hill Road) and The Sun will mail it for you.

A recent poll conducted by The Sun indicated a majority of the people in the area didn't like the all-digit system.

However, a telephone company executive from Los Angeles says that less than one per cent of its subscribers have protested the new system and thus we should all forget about arguing the point.

The Sun doesn't believe the fight should be forgotten.

The Sun feels that the telephone subscriber has been led to believe the change is "absolutely necessary."

However, many able persons have pointed out that this statement is false.

So, if you want to protest, here's your chance.

Red Mill To Be Rebuilt At Cost Of $1¼ Million

A family-type operation will go into effect when Lafayette's well-known Red Mill is revitalized in the immediate future, a syndicate group told The Sun today.

The restaurant will be completely remodeled and probably opened to the public around mid-February, John T. McIntyre, 39 Muth Drive, Orinda, said. He is president of two organizations involved in the renovation project which will probably cost around $250,000.

The Red Mill already has a swimming pool, but another one will be added. Suitable protection will be given the two pools so that they can be used throughout the year.

McIntyre said the group will soon solicit family club memberships. There will also be facilities for tennis, shuffleboard and handball.

The two groups involved in the Red Mill's remodeling are the Cornell Hotel Associates, Inc., and Nu-Nido Corp.

McIntyre's other facility consists of the Lake Merritt residentian hotel in Oakland.

Handlery Is Named Chairman

Paul R. Handlery of 13 Virginia Drive, Orinda, vice president and general manager of Handlery Hotels, 351 Geary Street, San Francisco was recently named chairman of a committee to promote "National Salesmen's Week" in San Francisco, according to Frank McIlroy, president of the local chapter of Sales and Marketing Executives International.

"National Salesmen's Week," February 3-9, 1963, is being sponsored for the second consecutive year by the Sales and Marketing group, which has 30,000 business executive members organized in 225 clubs in 36 countries of the free world.

Handlery said that "National Salesmen's Week" will highlight the importance of salesmen and selling in our economy. The "Week" will be proclaimed in all 50 states, and celebrated in every major marketing area of the country.

Handlery said that a sales rally featuring Jack Lacy, awards to salesmen with distinguished sales records, and educational programs to attract youth to carreers in selling, will be important features of the program.

Hammond Real Estate Opens In the Village

The realty firm of Hammond Company will move into a second office this week, the former Zoe Woolsey establishment at 60 Orinda Way.

Partners in the real estate firm are a husband and wife team, Maudie and Matt Hammond of 14 Van Tassel Lane, Orinda.

The Orinda landmark was the first real estate building in this area and has been occupied by Zoe Woolsey's firm for the past 15 years.

Spanish-styled of adobe and stone with a red-tiled roof, the historical building sits snugly between Orinda Way and Camino Sobrante in the heart of Orinda Village.

Special plans for the village landmark include night lighting effects on the cacti and palms that surround the small building, as well as a conservative and attractive new sign.

Recent newcomers to the real estate field, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond will continue to maintain their Lafayette office at 3407 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Raskob to Attend Board Meeting

Robert Raskob of Orinda will represent Contra Costa Thursday at a general meeting of the board of directors of Hanna Boys' Center.

Lunch Is on The Table . . .

The following menu will be served in all schools in the Orinda School District next week. Milk is served with all meals.

MONDAY — Chop suey; steamed rice; buttered spinach; peaches; hot roll.

TUESDAY — Meat balls with tomatoes; mashed potatoes; green beans; 100 per cent whole wheat bread; ice cream cup.

WEDNESDAY — Chili beans; green salad; cornbread muffins; cherry cobbler.

THURSDAY — Spaghetti with meat sauce; vegetable salad; French roll; fruit jello.

FRIDAY — Tuna salad sandwich; buttered corn; carrot stick; apricots.

Suburbia Scribblings

Frost Lightly & Serve . . .

FICKLE weather everywhere & not a drop to drip . . . w/the weatherman currently dishing up a sunny serving of June in January on the thermometer.

Back in Dec. (Remember, December? Took so long to get here & was gone so soon, so fast.), it was button up your overcoat & button down your long underwear. You needed radar to reach Lafayette through the fog. . . .

The closest California kids got to their New York cousins were those polar-bear mornings when the roadsides were slippery & frosted once over lightly . . . Wheeeeeee!

Some of our bright boys had a bucket brigade, sluicing water over stony terraces & cement patios hoping for a remote resemblance to an icy pond on the morrow. . . . In the village a couple of would-be Hans Brinkers, minus silver skates, trying to iceskate on hard-iced spots, leaping from one to the other like Topsy crossing the floes.

NOW WE'RE sunbathing . . . w/picnics on the grass, alas, & trips to our favorite Tilden Park to ride the steeds at the Merry Go Round & the real live ones at the Pony Ride. What a park to have over our back shoulder & thanks to a nice note from the esteemed Bill Mott, Orinda resident & Regional Park Manager, we have something special for you, kind of like an early valentine for the kiddies.

That beauty spot of Tilden (which one?) where nestles the Merry-Go-Round on its rolling knoll, may be refurbished all around w/tres gai decor depicting the history & origin of the merry-go-round. Playground, picnic tables, etcet. It beats any place else for a toddler's birthday party, too!

BUSINESS must be esp. good up there. Last Sunday, the country's most beautiful carousel konked itself out. . . . The power went off w/a slow whine & there there were plenty of wails forthcoming from the kids, both big & little. Hang on to your ticket, honey, it's good any time!

THAT RECENT rainbow that made its brilliant appearance was the most spectacular we've ever seen . . . & can anybody beat THIS record? Bill & Kay McLaren are godparents to TWENTY-TWO youngsters & are faithful remembering 'em, every last one!

A FEW MORE RECORDS, maybe? The Jerry Pixleys were early-birded by the Stork who sent them a fourth pink bundle from Heaven last Tuesday, 2 PM . . . & a few hours later, Diablo Valley tennis coach & teach Floyd Svensson was presented w/a 2nd son, sixth child, by wife Becky at Kaiser's WC hospital.

A BUNDLE of boy for Village Lucky's assistant mgr. Larry Dover, whose Christmas stocking received a brand new baby son, third child.

SPKG. of Christmas sox, that Madeline Partridge climbing out of a car mit crutches, kids & all for church last Sun., managed to still look very fashionable despite her broken leg from a fall. Over the plastered leg, one of those gorgeous handsome handknit knee-length stockings, sequins, Santy & everything.

AND SPEAKING of sequins, it's Inventory time & we hope Elite Fabric's Claire Ward doesn't spill her sequins & spools of thread all over the place in process of couting the darn things . . . One gentleman in Sprouse-Reitz came upon the clerks in the back, down on all floors & fours, surrounded by a mess of bobby-pins, brackets, binders & brooms. "I see you're taking inventory," said the nice man to which the ladies looked up & answered w/a sigh—"Not yet! We're just trying to get things straightened out so we CAN."

Lit Up Like a Lampshade . . .

Oh, yes, & the lady with the hat that lit up like a lampshade turned out to be none other than (aw, you've guessed it) Eva Parker, who while showing her battery-hattery to Ellie Sharp in Don Bradley in Phair's was heard to remark—"My battery's running down" prompting a passer-by to add — "Yes, isn't EVERYONE'S?"

COUNTRY CLOTHESLINE: Charlie Blue looking more Bleu than Blue in his distingue black topcoat, black tie, suit, etcet. Just like a Washington diplomat . . . On the other hand, the sunny weather brought out Hugh Rieger in his resort clothes—those cut-off blue denims w/the fringe on the bottom. By far, Suburbia's saltiest . . .

SPKKG. of clothes & shades of Eugenia Sheppard, but that's our own inimitable Nora Hampton by-lining those fabulous fashion stories for the Oakland Trib, bless her saucy little southern accent. Which doesn't come off in her very haute—tautey copy & why bother w/Vogue?

HEROINE OF THE WEEK: MEDALLIONS to Charlotte Chapple who did her duty, fire prevention-wise, almost, the other night. Bound for a Dramateurs' rehearsal (Gigi comes up at LafTownHall, Feb. 8), Char started down El Toyonal & heard what she thought were pop-ping sounds of a rousing ping-pong game emanating from the Bromley house which Dr. Tom Piatt is leasing. "Hmmmm, ping-pong," assumed the alert lady, not even mulling it over in her mind 'til she noticed a foggy haze over the Piatt's garage light. "Hmmmmm, not foggy elsewhere" decided Char, pulling into the Piatt's driveway, knocking on the door to announce they might have a fire in the garage, which they did & weren't even aware of . . . To the gal who's given so many good lines on stage, her best one yet is probably "I think you have a fire in the garage . . . "

The phone line had already burned so Charlotte galloped to the fire house post-haste where she banged on the door. "Please use the rear door," it said there. Which she did, post-haste & the firemen finally cometh, post-haste to put out the fire that anyone else driving by might have just passed up for a hot ping-pong game.

ROUND & ABOUT: Laurie Kersten still delivering delicious gift persimmon puddings after Christmas Ditto the Kerstens card in the late mail & I like people that refused to be rushed!

MY NICEST Christmas Memory, 1962 version, is, I suppose, our almost-two toddler running around the house & greeting everybody w/happy cries of "HALLELUJAH!" What's yours?

THE LOST & FOUND bounty was piled high at Pine Grove last week for the kids to please come & claim . . . new leather jackets, barely-worn sweaters, keds, parkas, etc. . . . which brought to mind the old Aesop fable about The Dog & The Bone—"It is wiser to take care of your own possessions than to be greedy for those of others." Something ALL our kids need reminding of . . .

THE GEORGE FOOTS' gorgeous house having been sold, Sunday saw them transporting their treasures down the road apiece to the little house overlooking El Rincon where they'll reside temporarily 'til their new home, to be designed by architect Davil Coleman, is built on Charles Hill.

The Charles Van Duynes celebrated Twelfth Night w/their traditional soiree, the Frank Brushes, Georges Hauer & Foot, Pat Cuuninghams, Jack Van Dynes, Bob & Jan Miller, Tom Gibsons some of those turning up on their Twelfth Night threshold, a night early this year . . .

MAUDIE & MATT Hammond opened their 2nd real estate office in the former Zoe Woolsey spot in the village this week . . . A recent trip to Palm Springs prompted their plans to spotlight the cacti & palms that adorn the old landmark.

'In the Shadows'

COVER BOY James Dent, handsome, silver-haired superintendent of the Mount Diablo School District, is pictured on the front page of this month's "Reporter," publication of the California Teachers Association.

A two-page spread on Dent's district lists it as the third largest in the Bay Area, with only San Francisco and Oakland school districts surpassing it in size.

A PEN PAL, courtesy of the U. S. Post Office, introduced himself to Mrs. Frances Geyer of Lafayette, last week, and thereby hangs a very involved tale.

Her new friend is Alvin Geyer, oilman from New Orleans, who very considerately forwarded to her a Christmas card addressed to her that he received in New Orleans!

Card, written by a former neighbor who moved to New Orleans, was correctly addressed, of course, but some one of the Boys in Blue who never got beyond the name "Geyer" decided it was meant for the New Orleans man of the same name . . . who had recently moved there from Lafayette, Louisiana!

Which prompted Mr. Geyer to write a warm, amusing letter, along with the mis-sent card, to his "kinfolk" in California. He wrote at length about their common last name, its origins, etc. But his pen-pal, delighted as she was with the letter, couldn't care less. Because Alvin Geyer's new friend lost all interest in her name when the blonde, very attractive Frances, was divorced some time ago.

AN OPTION on a daughter was taken by Pleasant Hill realtor Jerry Deutscher and his wife, Bernice, recently. Deal will be consummated sometime in July. Other "properties" owned by the pair include sons Phillip, 14, and Jeff, 12. Says Jerry flatly, "We're expecting a girl!"

OUT OF THE RUNNING for the presidency of the Contra Costa County Fire Commissioners Association this year is Zachary Montgomery, commissioner in the Orinda district for 12 years.

Not because Zach couldn't get the votes. Hardly. He's been held in such esteem by his fellow-commissioners that they elected him as their president for the past two consecutive years.

Reason he's not running for a third time is that the County Board of Supervisors didn't reappoint him. Sup. Mel Nielsen has said that he will take "sole responsibility" for not making the reappointment.

The only reason Nielsen gave The Sun: "I have my own personal reasons."

A CLOSE SHAVE was the one Sam Napoletano, owner of La Fiesta Barbershop in Lafayette had last week. Attempting to close the shutters Friday afternoon, the whole Venetian blind fell on his head. Four stitches later the hair-raising tale was closed!

NO CALORIE cutting for the kids was intended by the Walnut Creek School District recently. A menu in The Sun listing rye-krisp and jello as part of the school lunch menu was meant for the teachers, not the children, explained the somewhat embarrassed dietitian. "Teachers ask for less calories," she said, after sending The Sun the wrong menu. No apple-crisp for you, professor!

CALLING IT QUITS is Mrs. John Richardson of Orinda, who announced she is closing the Freedom Bookshop in Lafayette.

The shop specialized in conservative, anti-communist books and news.

Instead, Mrs. Richardson will open a branch of the American Library, part of a nationwide chain of book stores dealing in this kind of material, in Albany.

The new location, adjacent to the Mechanics Bank of Albany, is "one of the most readily accessible sites from all parts of the Bay Area," says Mrs. Richardson.

REVENGE? Insiders are raising eyebrows over the recent action of the board of supervisors requesting the county planning commission to conduct hearings on the rezoning of properties belonging to Anthony Lagiss in Lafayette.

Sup. Mel Nielsen of Lagiss' district suggested that four acres of his land be changed from business zoning to residential. Lagiss hollered "foul" but Nielsen got three votes — all he needed—to refer it to the planners for study.

Could this be a counter-action against Lagiss because of his fight against the lease-purchase arrangement that is financing the new county building? Lagiss in his suit claims "subterfuge" on the part of the supervisors because residents voted down a bond issue that would have paid for the building. The matter, still in the courts, will soon be reviewed by the appellate court.

Sisters and Mom Are in the Swim

By JANE PUTNAM

Everyone at 4030 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette(is a champion swimmer except for "the man of the house," Dr. Edward E. Georgian, who is an Oakland dentist.

Rose Georgian answers to "mother" and also former "west coast diving champ." Daughters Papsie, 17, and Darlene, 15, have won many swim honors.

PAPSIE, AN Acalanes senior, is four times the Women's National Solo Champion for synchronized swimmers. She is the youngest ever to win the women's solo title. And the only woman to ever win the solo title four consecutive times.

Darlene, 15, a sophomore at Acalanes, is the Junior Olympic diving champion.

While other teenage girls were working, playing, socializing or just plain loafing during the Christmas holidays, Papsie Georgian was doing what she has done since she was six years old: She was competing for honors as a swimmer.

Christmas night at their Lafayette home, Mrs. Georgian hurriedly put away the family's gifts. As she has done for 11 years, she prepared to accompany her oldest daughter to a synchronized swimming competition.

THEY WENT to Los Angeles where Papsie's team, the Athen's Athletic Club's Water Follies, won the Pan American Game Tryouts. Papsie and the other girls on the Athens team will leave early in April for Sao Palo, Brazil, as part of the United States swim team.

Other local girls on the Oakland Athen's Club Follies are: Kim Welshons, Danville; and Linda and Judy McFadden, Walnut Creek.

Currently, six girls and two coaches of the Mexican synchronized swim team are here to get some help as they are "so much behind." Although they will compete with the Athens team at the Pan American games, thew are receiving instruction from the local team and coaches.

MRS. ROSA PARDO, head of the synchronized swimming at the P.A. meet, is the guest of the Georgians.

Four of the girls from Mexico are guests of the Albert McFadden's in Walnut Creek. Two of the visitors are guests of the Robert Welshons in Danville.

Chauffeur and ex-offico coach, Rose Georgian was not the type to sit by the pool and watch Papsie. She began to dive; and became West Coast diving champion.

Darlene and Mrs. Georgian began their swimming careers at the same time, seven years ago. They worked up a "Me and My Shadow" routine which they performed at local shows and benefits on the West Coast.

THE ROUTINE is now abandoned since Darlene is now as tall as her mother, and no longer can pass for a "shadow."

Diminutive Papsie, who weights less than 90 pounds and is a shade under five feet tall, does not appear to be the type to take the rigorous training of a champion in her field.

Before a meet, she practices seven days a week for two hours after school; and four hours during the daytime, Saturdays and Sundays.

She budgets her time between swimming and studying.

DR. GEORGIAN has issued an edict that "Grades must come first." Both Darlene and Papsie know that they must give up their beloved sport if their grades fall.

Papsie's real name Carolyn Ann. However, no one calls her that. Before she arrived, her father referred to her as "the papoose" who was on the way, and the name struck.

Papsie attended Vallecito and Stanley Schools in Lafayette. She began to swim at the Athens when she was four and one-half years old. However, she didn't enter competition until the ripe age of six.

When the girls go to Brazil, they will be chaperoned by Joy Cushman, coach of the U.S. team and national chairman of the P.A. games.

PAPSIE'S COACHES at the Athens have been Sun Oldham and Joan Nelson.

Papsie explains that synchronized swimming is like ice-skating. The girls swim to music. They are judged on two parts.

First, they perform skills and stunts in plain black swim suits.

Secondly, in costume, they do a routine. This is their interpretation of a theme to music.

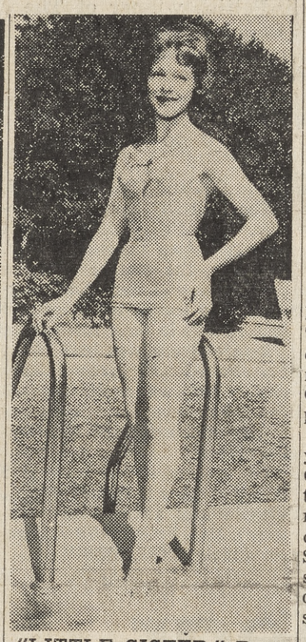
Papsie first won the Joanne Maury trophy for the national senior women solo competition when she was 14 years old. She became (and still is) youngest to ever win this title. It is open to "women" over the 12-year-old age limit.

PAPSIE AGAIN won the title in 1961. She was given the honor of keeping the trophy for having won it two consecutive times. In 1962, Papsie again won the title, thus becoming the only woman to win three consecutive solo titles in synchronized swimming.

If you ask Papsie whether the grind of practicing is worth it: she smiles her wide, infectuous smile and says: "You bet!"

PAPSIE GEORGIAN, diminutive synchronized swimming champ is dwarfed by a few of her trophies. Left, is the trophy for winning the national senior solo title for two consecutive times. This Joanne Maury trophy is now Papsie's to keep. San Francisco national solo trophy for 1961 is at right.

ANY WAY you look at her — Rose Georgian wasn't the kind of mother to sit beside the pool and watch her daughters in the swim. She decided to dive in, too, and wound up West Coast diving champ; as well as exhibition swimmer.



"LITTLE SISTER." Darlene Georgian, 15, is a sophomore at Acalanes High School. She and her mother began their swimming careers together. They used to do a "Me and my shadow" routine — until the shadow attained her mother's height!

Students To Be Sent Home If Disaster Occurs

In the event of a yellow disaster alert, warning of an anticipated attack, Acalanes Union High School District students will be sent home.

Parents previously had the option of having their students return home or evacuated to an area designated by Civil Defense authorities.

The decision to send all pupils home was announced by the school district in a letter mailed today to all high school parents.

High school officials stated that the policy change for sending all students home is predicated on the fact that schools cannot count on buses being available for evacuation at the precise time of an alert, and that traffic conditions allowing such evacuations are unpredictable.

Students would return home on foot. The letter to parents explains that "under emergency conditions a one-way traffic pattern probably will be in effect, making it almost impossible for parents to drive to school for their children and return home."

The high school district's policy change sending all pupils home is approved by civil defense authorities and conforms with the procedure now adopted by all of the elementary districts within the Acalanes High School District's boundaries.

Sun 'Music Night' —It's Tonight

The Sun invites you to a musical dress rehearsal of the famed San Francisco Operatic Quartet tonight, 8 p.m., in the Acalanes High School auditorium.

The free Sun Music Night is a "national-tour-eve" performance by the quartet, which includes two local residents, tenor Kenneth Wohn and baritone Richard Frock.

Following their full dress rehearsal tonight, Wohn, Frick, soprano Catherine Paul, mezzo-soprano Donna Petersen and director Maestro Nino Comel will depart on their eighth annual concert tour of three months. The quartet is scheduled to appear in Michigan, Minnesota, Colorado and Canada.

WOHN, WHOSE tenor voice has won the praise of critics throughout the state and across the nation, is a resident of 30 Monte Vista Road, Orinda.

Making his second tour with the quartet, Wohn joined the group in 1961.

Baritone Richard Frock is a four-year veteran, having first appeared with the musical organization in 1959. He lives at 960 Acalanes Road, Lafayette.

The program in which the two local men appear tonight is identical to that which the group will present on its tour.

MAESTRO NINO COMEL, founder of the quartet, has announced the following selections:

Quartet from "Rigoletto," by Verdi; Duet from "Don Giovanni," by Mozart; Duet from "La Gioconda," by Ponchielli; Trio from "The Stolen Bucket," by Burgmein; Duet from "Lucia di Lammermoor," by Donizetti; Trio from "I Lombardi," by Verde.

Trio from "The Daughter of the Regiment," by Donizetti; Barcarolle from "Tales of Hoffman," by Offenbach; Quartet from "A School for Husbands," by Wolf-Ferrari.

A condensed version of Rossini's "The Barber of Seville," in a new English translation by Director Comel, will be sung following the intermission. Count Almaviva will be sung by Wohn, the barber; Figaro, by Frock, with Rosina and Bertha sung by Catherine Paul and Donna Petersen.

Both the mezzo and the soprano are accomplished in these roles; their specific casting will be announced at program time. The stage for tonight's performance has been decorated through the courtesy of Orchard Nursery of Lafayette.

Welfare Head Hits State Nursing Rates

New chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, James Kenney, wielded the gavel at Tuesday's meeting of the board of supervisors. He took over his new duties from Supervisor Tom Coll on the usual annual rotation procedure.

First knotty tangle of the new year was a report from William G. Golden, county welfare director, who warned that old people may come flooding into the county hospital May 1 unless the State Social Welfare Board is stopped from approving a recommended nursing home rate schedule.

Golden said the county now pays up to $300 a patient a month through federally supported medical aid to the aged program.

UNDER THE RATE schedule recommended by the State Department of Finance, the rates would be $219 for most patients and $272 for intensive care patients.

In a procedure termed "impossible to administer" by Dr. Glen W. Kent of the health department, patients would have to be classified according to 32 specific criteria set by the state for either intensive or minimal status.

Mrs. Mary McChesney, operator of several nursing homes in the county, agreed, saying in a test run with the criteria, it had taken eight hours to classify 20 patients.

She predicted the level of care for elderly persons in rest homes would drop drastically if the new rates were approved.

GOLDEN AGREED, adding that many of the people would be brought back to the county hospital, and he doubted there would be enough room.

Supervisor Mel Nielsen proposed using the tuberculosis sanitarium once used by the county and still partly owned by Contra Costa, as an old people's home.

Dr. Kent said the major objection was that the facility was outside the county, necessitating the breaking up of families.

Declaring that this county has now one of the finest complexes of rest homes in the state, Golden said the proposed rates threaten to ruin all recent progress.

HE TOLD supervisors that county welfare directors were teaming up to ask that the state decision on rates be held up at least until a better study can be made. Welfare directors were also asking that a differential be allowed for a higher level of service.

In other business, the County Flood Control District and the Public Works Department will undertake a coordinated project to replace the Glenside Drive bridge on Las Trampas Creek.

A storm drainage zone proposal for Clayton Valley brought strong opposition from residents of major subdivision in the area. The protests were loud, although flood control officials virtually promised that about two-thirds of the necessary work in the area would be done at no cost to the taxpayers.

The hearing was continued until January 22 and partisans on both sides were advised to get as much backing as possible within the community by that time.

BATES BOULEVARD in Orinda was changed to Silverwood Drive.

The board approved the addition of a portion of abandoned Mt. Diablo Boulevard property to the Lafayette Veterans Memorial property, and the dedication of an easterly 10 feet of that property for future widening of First Street.

Some $57,000 in extra funds in Flood Control Zone 3B committed to work and maintenance required by the October storms was approved.

Supervisor Edmund Linscheid was named vice chairman of the board of supervisors and will move into the chairmanship in 1964.

Incumbents File For County Seats On School Board

A dozen candidates have already filed declarations of candidacy for school board positions to be filled in the biennial election which will be held April 16 throughout Contra Costa County.

Among the county board members whose terms are expiring are P. B. Williamson of Concord, Area 4 (Mt. Diablo Unified District), and Mrs. Lucille Mauzy of Walnut Creek, Area 7 (San Ramon Valley and Acalanes Union High School Districts).

At opposite ends of the county, voters will also fill offices on the board of Contra Costa Junior College District. The terms of Fred R. Abbott of Brentwood, representing Ward V, and Glenn L. Clemetson of Richmond, representing Ward II, are expiring.

MORE THAN 60 other board positions in local school districts are to be filled in the April election.

Among candidates who have thus far filed their declarations with the office of County Superintendent Floyd Marchus in Pleasant Hill are as follows:

Alamo School District—Incumbents Walter L. Day and Blaine A. Dixon. Two are to be elected.

Moraga School District — Incumbent Frederic A. Sawyer for a two-year term. Two are to be elected to four-year terms also.

ORINDA UNION School District — Incumbent Herbert A. Waterman. Two are to be elec-ted.

Lafayette School District — Mrs. Sara Lee "Chris" Adams, incumbent. Two are to be elected.

San Ramon Valley Union High School District — Dr. Jack V. Shahbazian, incumbent. Two are to be elected.

In the Danville Union School District, terms of two trustees will expire, James M. Horvell and Harold W. Smith.

TWO SEATS remain to be filled in Lafayette. In addition to Mrs. Adams who has filed for reelection, the term of B. W. Moore will expire.

Three seats will be filled in the Moraga district. In addition to Sawyer, the terms of Dr. Leonard Morgenstern and Robert Amber will expire.

Two seats to be filled in Orinda are those of Philip D. Bush and Waterman.

In Walnut Creek, trustees whose terms expire are Phyllis Hartwig and Love H. Murray.

Two vancanies will exist in the San Ramon Valley High School District, Dr. Shahbazian, who will run again and Mrs. Frances Garrison.

In the Mt. Diablo Unified District, members whose terms are ending are Howard B. Jones and Mrs. Doris Loveridge.

Candidates may file with Dr. Marchus' office at 75 Santa Barbara Road, Pleasant Hill, until March 1 at 5 p.m.

County School Taxes Lower This Year

Contrary to the general impression during tax bill season, some school tax rates declined from last year's level.

In nine of the 22 elementary school districts the total tax rate —for operating expenses, bonds, state loan repayment, override taxes, etc.—is lower than last year, as disclosed by the annual reports of County Superintendent Floyd Marchus. Total tax rates of two of the six high school districts also declined.

Among the elementary districts the total tax rates range from 67 cents per $100 assessed valuation to $3.06. The low rate, levied in the Selby District, where enrollment is low and assessed valuation high, is the only one below $1.

High school tax rates range from 95 cents to $2.32 and unified district rates from $3.12 to $5.24.

The junior college rate is 41½ cents, approximately the same as last year.

Included in the total tax rate may be as many as 12 different items: operating tax, which is levied by every district; bond tax rate, levied by all but five districts; two separate tax rates for repayment of state building loans; override taxes to support two retirement systems — for certificated and classified employees—and OASI; meals for needy children, education of the mentally retarded, community service, and fire sprinkler, the latter an override allowed for the first time this year and used by one district only.

STAMPING OUT four-cent stamps is now part of the regular chores of Walnut Creek postal employee Al Ciarniello. Ciarniello here offers the letter-writer the new 5-cent George Washington.

Local Printers Host Conference This Weekend

Members of the Northern California Typographical Conference will be hosted by the Martinez Typographical Union 597, AFL-CIO, at the Concord Inn tomorrow and Sunday.

The conference meets quarterly and is hosted by the different member locals of this organization.

It represents printers and mailers of 23 locals in California and Nevada from Bakersfield north to Eureka and east to Reno, Nevada. There are some 147 communities and cities represented by a total membership of 5700 employees of the printing industry.

Victor J. Nagode, president of the Martinez local urges all members and their friends to attend the dinner Saturday evening and also to sit in at the two business sessions, one on Saturday and the other on Sunday.

The local committee in charge of the arrangements are: Robert Duncan, Floyd Gieg, M. F. Cardwell, Arthur Sanders and Q. Grimm, chairman.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from Bob Duncan or any of the local chapels and members of the committee.

Noted Author Will Open Spring Lecture Forum

Vance Packard, author of "The Waste Makers," "The Status Seekers," "The Hidden Persuaders," and his newest best - seller, "The Pyramid Climbers," will open the fall Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum on January 22.

The Forum, a series of three lectures, is held at Diablo Country Club at 10:30 a.m.

Title of Packard's discussion will be, "America in Upheaval—The Seven Great Changes of Our Time."

FUTURE SPEAKERS will be Thomas M. Franck, professor of international law at New York University, and author of "Race and Nationalism," and Mrs. Anne Reher, lecturer and musician, who is also a book reviewer.

Franck will speak on "The Revolution Within World Communism," on February 19, and Mrs. Reher will discuss "The Best in Books" on March 19.

Price for the series is $5 which includes coffee served before the program from 10 to 10:30 a.m.

Tickets for the Packard lecture are $2.50, and the others are $2.00 each. Checks can be mailed to the Diablo Tuesday Forum, Box 273, Diablo, California.

Dramateurs to Start School

The Dramateurs' school of drama for young people, ages 7-17 years, will begin its winter session of 10 weeks tomorrow at Lafayette Town Hall.

For information concerning classes, call Patricia Winkworth at 254-5517.

WEEKEND WEATHER FORECAST

Department of Commerce U.S. Weather Bureau forecast for the central county:

Partly cloudy today and colder.

Tomorrow, there will be occasional cloudiness.

However, the sun is scheduled to come out Sunday, so let's go-go-go on a family outing.

5 Cents -- But no Cigar: Postal Rates Increase

What this country needs is a good five-cent . . . stamp. Or so the Federal Government seems to believe.

Postal rates went up a penny for first class letters Monday. And local post offices from Orinda to Alamo reported a run on one-centers which stripped them clean early this week.

Letter writers had good reason to augment their old 4-cent stamps by a penny: mail without the new postage will be delayed, marked "postage due" and the addressee will have to foot the bill.

Federal officials hope that the new rates will add $600 million a year to P. O. income, thus cutting down an annual operational deficit.

The rates went from four to five cents an ounce on first class mail: post cards are up from three to four cents; air mail letters now cost eight instead of seven cents an ounce.

Increases in second, third and fourth class rates and permits are also going up; the increases will be spread over a three-year period.

The postal hike is expected to cost each American letter-writing family an additional $1.80 per year. It bring rates to their highest since uniform rates were first established in 1863.

Postal officials expect initial ill effects from the increase because letters without proper postage must be hand-processed. Carriers will also spend more time than previously attempting to collect the postage due from the addressee.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

And it's getting Rheemer all the time.

NEWEST MULTIPLES in Rheemland, on Donald Drive, will be completed in about two months. One will have 18 units, the other 20. There are six building, two owners. Units will have one, two and three bedrooms.

The 36-unit condominium (Duffel-Smoot's "Town House" TOWN?!) will be ready before the month is out. Units will have one, two and three bedrooms.

Meanwhile, the hill on the west side of the shopping center is being leveled to make room for a low density garden apartment multiple subdivision This will include approximately 180 units . . . in the area behind Donald L. Rheem School . . . north of Donald Drive.

When the hill is done, a road by the name of Ascot Drive will be constructed. When Ascot Drive is finished and the improvements and utilities are in (probably by the end of this year) the multiple subdivision will get started.

For those who have complained about the three-story height of the Donald Drive apartments: the county restrictions for this type of zoning (M-R) is four stories or a 50 foot maximum. So the three story, 30-foot structure is 'way under the line.

Furthermore, this type of zoning would allow one unit for every 750 square feet of land, and these units average about one unit for every 1500 square feet. So Rheem-dwellers should dance in the streets maybe?

California is now the most populated state in the nation, and the way it's going, Rheem may become the most populated town. (The quail are even beginning to quail.)

* * *

FOOTBALL FLASHES. Mrs. Barbara Flores, fourth grade teacher at Donald L. Rheem School, will need a new baby sitter for the 10-month-old twin boys. Her husband Tom, star pro football defensive quarterback, took care of the babies at their Orinda home while he was sidelined with a lung infection. Now that the medics have given the okay, Tom has signed with the Oakland Raiders. From diapers to Raiders is quite a switch in signals.

Another pro team, known as the 49'ers, will be honored at a dinner at the Moraga Barn Friday night. Red Hickey will be losing two of his assistant coaches, who will be given a farewell sendoff by the 49'ers loyalest fan, Chef Arturo Fleuti.

* * *

HONORED, AUSSI, will be Jean Bates, retiring president of the John Muir Hospital Auxiliary, composed of the county's 12 guilds. Jean will be honored at the annual auxiliary meeting Monday at Mike Lynn's. During Jean's two-year term of office, the hospital has emerged from a dream to a near reality. Other Moragans planning to attend the noon luncheon include Nell Prescott, Betty Terrell and Colleen Hall.

* * *

SPECIAL DELIVERY. Sir Stork was a little too late to leave an income tax deduction at the home of the Richard Houses on Larch Lane. The Houses' second daughter, Lois Elaine, weighed in at 6 pounds 6 ounces at 8:37 a.m. Monday. Dick is the "block" manager for the S. F. Examiner. Other little Houses are: Kenneth, four; Loreli, three, and Karl, 2. Grandmother Van Loon is taking care of the Houses' house until Doris is back on the job.

Second son of the Ralph Grahams was more cooperative. He not only arrived in time to be a deduction, but also allowed Donna to return home from the hopsital in time to spend Christmas with the family. Michael Len Graham is the good l'il boy's name.

* * *

WEDDING BELLS will soon ring again in the Bollinger Canyon households of Captain and Mrs. Harold Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Coffin (Dottie Coffin is the Parker's daughter). Harold Parker Coffin (Parkers' grandson, Coffins' son) will wed Marilyn Francis January 26 in a Pleasant Hill church. Marilyn and young Harold started kindergarten together. He is now studying accounting at Cal.

Betty and Harold Parker entertained for the affianced pair January 3 at a smorgasbord dinner at the Alameda Naval Officers' Club. The Parker, Coffin and Francis clans attended.

Only last August, the Parkers gave a reception for another grandchild, Peg Coffin, and her then brand-new husband, Bill Boeger.

* * *

RHEEM CENTER is not the center of all of Richard S. Rheem's plans for expansion. The president of Rheem California Land Company, Rheem, California, Richard S. is also director of the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in The City. The museum will expand by 18 galleries, starting this summer.

First Baby of 1963 Winner 'Astounded'

"America continually astounds us!" said Mrs. Gordon Friis-Pettitt in an English accent when informed that she had won The Sun's 1963 Annual First Baby Contest. Mrs. Friis-Pettitt gave birth to a daughter, Vera-Lee, New Year's Day at 5:36 a.m.

In compliance with the contest rules, news of Vera-Lee's arrival was the first reported to The Sun in the Orinda-Lafayette-Moraga-Canyon area before the January 3 deadline.

MR. AND MRS. Friis-Pettitt live at 6 Easton Court, Orinda—just off Hall Drive. They have three other children: Dawn-Mary, 6; Gordon, 5; Bruce, 1.

The Friis-Pettitts came here from Seven Oaks, Kent, England, three and one-half years ago. They moved to Concord first.

Friis-Pettitt is an estimator with Lathrop Construction Company, Berkeley. He was a quantity surveyor in England, which is basically the same.

ALL OF THEIR relatives are in England, so Mrs. Friis-Pettitt ordered many copies of The Sun to prove to the folks back home that their latest addition received such recognition. In England, apparently, first babies of the new year are given the "business as usual" treatment!

Among the prizes which Vera-Lee will receive are: a Posture Form baby bath from Jo-Ev Variety, Rheem Center; white dress shirt and tie for dad from Perry's Ltd., Lafayette; Griffin scuffers from Sutton's Shoes, Lafayette; bottle sterilizer from Kamians, Orinda Village.

A CASE OF baby food from Black's Market, Orinda; $5 merchandise order from Orinda Hardware; $10 worth of dry cleaning from Philco-Bendix Sunshine Center, Orinda; a bed jacket for mom from The Little Daisy of Lafayette; $5 toward the purchase of over $15 at Charlene's, Orinda; $5 worth of shoe repairing, Orinda Shoe Service.

A box of cigars from Lafayette Bottle Shop; $5 merchandise order from Lafayette Pharmacy; Hush Puppies for dad and a Hush Puppies bank for baby from the Shoe Stable, Lafayette.

CARTER'S JAMA blanket from Kandi's, Lafayette; a permanent wave for mom from Sunset Beauty Bar; and an infanseat from Johanson's Baby News, Lafayette.

Mrs. Friis-Pettitt, overwhelmed by the news of her prizes said that she hadn't bought anything new for their fourth child except extra diapers. "I think that this is great good fortune on our part! Excellent timing!" said the proud new mother.

HER HUSBAND and she decided to see the New Year in together at home before going to the hospital, according to Mrs. Friis-Pettitt. About 1:30 a.m., they went through the tunnel to Oakland Kaiser Hospital.

The Hall Drive home is prolific. Mrs. Friis-Pettitt's rabbit had 11 babies Christmas Day. However, the mother deserted the babies and they didn't survive. This leaves two dogs and four rabbits in their menagerie.

Before Bruce was born, Mrs. Friis-Pettitt was given a baby shower. This was another American phenomenon which delighted and surprised the Englishwoman.

When asked if they were glad they had come to Orinda, U.S.A. (despite our astounding customs), Mrs. Friis-Pettitt said resoundingly: "OH, YES!"

Cutoff Is Clear

By GLADYS SHALLY

Storm-damaged Pinehurst Road is open, both the north and south legs. However, motorists will find it no boulevard. Traffic can get through as operations allow. During working hours there will be intermittent delays.

This is the first existensive "face lifting" job done on the seven-mile-long Pinehurst Road since it became a part of the county primary system in 1896.

Complete restorative work is not expected to be finished until some time next summer, according to John Shotwell, county design engineer in charge of storm-damaged road repair work.

COMMUTERS have been impatient for the delay in making this road passable. For the great amount of reconstruction work done, and being done, the results have been speedy, according to Vic Sauer, County Public Works director.

The seeming delay in getting the work started was for a simple reason: unavailability of men and equipment—too many places within the county required the service of contractors after the deluge of last October 13.

Redwood Canyon, one of the sections of the county hardest hit by the big storm, is a hazardous area for road work because of both terrain and ground construction. It has been a tremendous job, done with official fingers crossed, for additional heavy rains could undo much of the work partially completed.

There were any number of slides and slipouts. A major one above the old railroad tunnel necessitated cutting into the cliff to build a new road bed. A large slice of hillside was removed to provide hundreds of truckloads of fill for places where the road was completely washed out.

STEEP DROP offs required the building of steel cribs to retain the road. Big new drains had to replace mud-clogged damaged pipes and the road had to be banked for better drainage and berms rebuilt alongside the road.

One of the more difficult repair jobs, because of having to work in and below the creek bed is in front of Redwood Inn (Canyon Store). Here, during the height of the storm, the muddy river that washed down the canyon took half the road bed with it.

LET NO one say that the Public Works Department doesn't have a heart!

Their first plan for the cheapest and quickest road repair at this point, was to bury the creek in a culvert and resurface the whole area. When a consulting geologist suggested that this might kill the nearby redwoods, whose roots would be unable to reach water, it was decided to replace a retaining wall.

When it is completed, Pinehurst Creek will have a storm-proof concrete wall on its road side, anchored five feet below the stream bed.

THE COUNTY hopes to start the resurfacing in about two weeks, depending on the weather. This does not mean that Pinehurst's full length will be paved, but only that designated as storm-damaged.

No matter how badly in need of resurfacing, where road damage cannot be attributed to the storm, repaving will have to wait until the board of supervisors passes a grading ordinance for the road—this depends upon when they know where the money is to come from.

Both state and federal aid is expected to help pay for the permanent repair work.

The south leg of Pinehurst (from its junction with Canyon Road to where it joins Redwood Road in Alameda County) is rated a federal aid secondary road. Aid for reconstruction of the north leg (From Canyon Road to Skyline Boulevard must come from the State Division of Highways. Unofficially it is expected that the Pinehurst project will take about one-sixth of the total cost of county road repairs.

The north leg of Pinehurst was built in the late 1900s as a joint Moraga-Canyon community project, with Albert Williams as roadmaster. The route of the winding road was never surveyed, but laid out in a unique way.

WILLIAMS stood on the ridge opposite where he had a good view of the hill where the road was to go. Men were stationed at various places on the hillside. With the use of signal flags he made known to the men where the road cut looked most possible, and markers were placed.

A road camp was established and all food was donated by the people of the area.

After the completion of "Snake Road" Williams requested the board of supervisors that the road become a part of the county road system. (The adjoining road through the canyon, then called "Colorado" had been a public highway since 1850.)

As was the custom at that time, the board of supervisors appointed a "viewing committee" who reported on the project, and the petition was then granted. The steep Thorne Road heretofore the route over into Oakland, was then shut off, and the new Snake Road became the short-cut to Oakland.

Much as we decry a dry winter, while the rains hold off, work will be completed that much sooner.

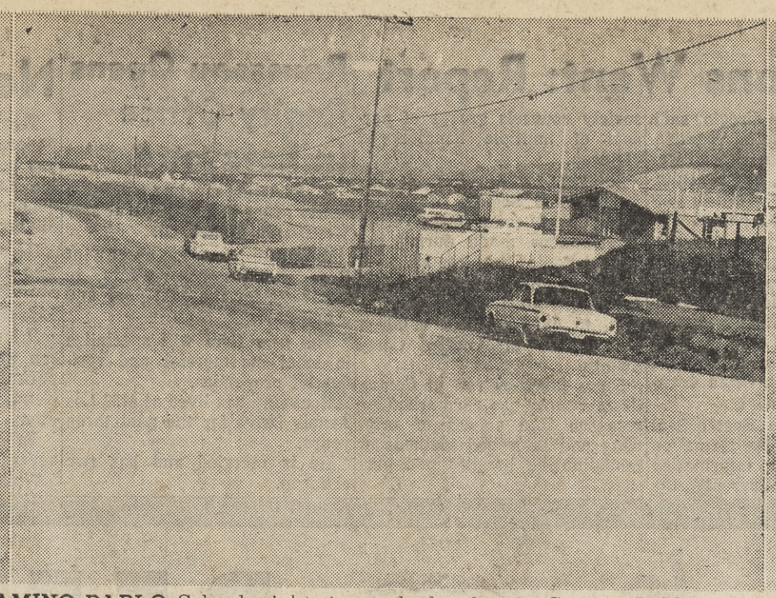
(OFFER EXPIRES SUNDAY, JAN. 27, 1963)

CONTRAST between Camino Pablo (foreground) and developer's roads is seen from this bird's-eye view. Camino Pablo is only 16 feet wide. The county minimum is 20 feet.



CAMINO PABLO School, right, is reached only via Camino Pablo Road. School buses, teachers' and parents' cars, construction vehicles and students on bikes already congest the sub-standard county road.

MEANWHILE, across from the scho ol, construction goes ahead on a new 77-home subdivision, as seen throug h some remaining orchard trees in the Orchard Dell sector of Moraga. An a dditional 140-homes is being planned.

The Road That Everybody Uses—Nobody Fixes

Camino Pablo Road, Moraga, was the subject of a meeting of the county planning staff yesterday. Assembled in a room on the fifth floor of the Hall of Records Building, Martinez, were representatives of the county, school, public utilities and the developer.

The preliminary conference was to go over the subdivision map which calls for 140 homes across from Camino Pablo School, Moraga.

REZONING FOR the development, planned by Russell J. Bruzzone of Lafayette, was granted by the county planning commission, January 2.

The planners granted Bruzzone's request to rezone from general agricultural to single family residential, a 19-acre parcel adjacent to the 10 acres now under construction by Bruzzone.

The 10-acre development on which 77 homes will be built is bordered by Camino Pablo Road. The subdivision map for this project was approved and construction is underway.

Representing the school district at the meeting yesterday was Charles Toll, principal of amino Pablo School.

THE DISTRICT "vigorously opposes" any more subdivisions in the area until Camino Pablo Road, the only access road to the school, is "improved substantially," Toll said.

The school board passed a resolution to this effect, a copy of which was sent to the planners, board of supervisors, public works department, and builders in the vicinity.

Developer Russ Bruzzone stated that the improving of Camino Pablo was "a county responsibility." He went on to explain that none of the homes in his development would face Camino Pablo.

"For a builder to put houses facing an access road would be economic suicide," Bruzzone said.

An official of the traffic division of the public works department, stated that there wasn't sufficient density on the road to warrant improvements.

TOLL STATED that there now is traffic congestion around the school (without traffic of 217 additional homes). He said that among those who now use the road are: children riding bikes and walking; teachers; parents; school buses; heavy trucks working on the school addition and new subdivision.

Furthermore, Toll said that because of the sub-standard width of the road, it does not have a white line down the middle. In the fog, this is an added hazard.

A SIX-FOOT deep, four-foot-wide gulley which was caused by the storm, alongside the road, in the area of the school, is currently being filled by the county.

Both Toll and Bruzzone stated that they thought it was the county's responsibility to bring the road up to county standards.

The county traffic official said that Camino Pablo Road had never been on the county's priority list to improve; but that as the property is developed and population increased. improvements would be approved.

"However, this year, projects which were actually budgeted had to be cancelled because of the unexpected repairs which had to be made due to the storm," he said.

Camino Pablo is also the access road to the 450-acre Sanders Ranch which is rumored to be sold.

Scout District Plans Training Meet

An intensive, one-afternoon orientation training session for present and future Boy Scout leaders and interested parents has been planned by the Or-La-Mo District for Saturday, January 19.

The meeting will be held from 1 to 4:30 p.m. in the senior room of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church, 49 Knox Drive, Lafayette, according to James S. Campbell, chairman of the District Leadership Training Committee.

The accelerated program will be presented by instructors from 10 of the 21 troops within the district. Each troop is encouraged to send at least four persons. A completion certificate will be presented to each attendee at the end of the program.

THE SESSION has been tailored to include essential material normally presented at three or more meetings for those receiving their first training course in scout leadership. Advanced courses will be offered if sufficient interest is shown.

Serving as coordinator at the meeting will be Tom Clarke (Troop 212). The opening ceremony will be presented by Dick Bartle (Troop 27). Scouting's aims and methods will be explained by Stan Hunn (Troop 247). Hugh Ewing (Troop 223) will speak on adult participation. Les Ayers (Troop 52) will discuss patrol organization and Harry Sigworth (Troop 200) will comment on troop organization.

The patrol leaders' council will be explained by Bill Gilmore (Troop 201). Fred Volberg (Troop 218) will suggest ways of bridging the gap between Cubs, scouting and exploring. Program planning technique will be outlined by Jack Eyman (Troop 241), and rank advancement will be explained by Bob Hamilton (Troop 204). Movies and filmstrips will illustrate some of the presentations.

District Commissioner Bob Prichard will discuss the financing of scouting and religious awards. Roger Bond, assistant scoutmaster for Troop 247, will conduct a closing ceremony and Campbell will present the certificates.

Seminar Signup

Sign-ups by students for the Humanities Seminar will begin Tuesday and continue until January 29 at Miramonte High School.

ADVANCING FROM Life to Eagle Scout Monday night at the Court of Honor for Boy Scout Troop 247 will be Brian Moriarty, Miramonte High School sophomore. Brian shakes hands with Scoutmaster Peter St. Hill and Assistant Scoutmaster S. S. Hunn, left. His father, right, James Moriarty, 80 Le Cuesta, Orinda, looks on with pride. The awards will take place at St Stephen's Episcopal Church, which sponsors the troop. Sun photo by Bob Yost.

Miramonte Mirror

Let's Cheer Basketball Team on to Win Tonight

By KAREN STAFFORD and JACKIE EDENHOLM

Miramonteens are finding it a little hard to function, it seems, after those two l-o-n-g weeks of Christmas vacation. If you are one of the many plagued by such symptoms as "tired blood" listlessness, forgetfulness, unenthusiasm ——— give yourself a good kick in the leg (with a little coordination, it's possible). It's the only known cure ——— !

As we look to the sports scene at Miramonte things appear a little grey for our basketball champs, who have a bad habit of losing games by one point. "With — a little bit o'luck" — and a revival of the spirits — we'll have it made!!!

On the Miramonte basketball courts tonight our boys will meet Del Valle — see you there!!

Rowena Sherman was one surprised girl when she was shanghaied early Saturday morning by seventeen of her friends for her birthday. After eating breakfast at the Hickory Pit in Walnut Creek some of the more energetic girls headed for the slide at Claremont Hotel. What's this about greeting a "fat lady" at the end of the slide???

Taking part in the shanghai were Ann Cunningham, Sandy Carlile, Joanne Dirickx, Ginger Ronald, Debbie Maynard, Carol Mansonen, Jeanne Quinn (congrats! she finally made a shanghai) Eleanore Larson, Judy Trumbly, Mary Schaffer, Linda McClellen, Chris Walstrom, Ann Gompertz, Chris Vota, Chris Romer, Linda Rice and Mary White.

Many Miramonteens could be seen at Squaw Valley over Christmas vacation regardless of the snow conditions. Some of the ski "fiends" included Paul Locklin, Scott Huntley, Larry Towers and George Hauer . . . how'd you like the rocks, boys?

Also seen were Kay Dunbar, Sue La Plant, Kit Harnet, John Valpreda, Tom Archer, John Simpson, Kent Miller, Bob Williams, Kitty Bruss and Jeanne Quinn, who found the snow "great" at Shasta.

Henry Kaiser's home was the scene of a New Year's party which attracted many Miramonte students. A few of those there were Sally Skaggs and Rick Keating, Barb Bagley and Dave Hughes, Fred Neighbor and Karen Kahl, and the Stampley twins with their dates. Rick Borden was seen there wishing a Happy New Year to all.

Joan Dirickx and Rick Oltman, Joanne Dumble and Steve Cantroll, Sue Brown and Dan Winthers, an Kathy Beconcini with Bill Outman spent the New Year's at Rick house . . . doing what?!!! . . . watching TELEVISION!!!

Chris Hammond also had company on New Year's Eve. Beth Lincoln and Mark Lunblad, Larry Degrassi and Mary Burnham, Sandy Johnson and Randy Jaeger all had an enjoyable evening to remember as the beginning of 1963.

Mixing with the many graduates of Miramonte at Keith St. Clair's home were Connie DeLaveaga and Doug Dermit, Sue Leftwich and Steve Stuckert, Chrissy Voll and Bill Cooper, Joyce Thompson and Hap Parks, Jane White and Dave Parrish, and Peggy Rose and Gary McCosker.

Although it may sound as if Orinda teens were pretty busy when they greeted the New Year, many of them were left bewildered and disappointed because there was nowhere to go. NOTE TO THE ORINDA ASSOCIATION: How's that recreation center coming along?

At Carol Thompson's home during the week end: Kay Williams, Sue Hickcox and Barb Reynolds. Reason? Carole was leaving for Arizona. Carole also went with Ken White and Rob Nickerson to the Student Union Building on the Cal campus. But, alas, there were no folk singers to listen to, but the Pancake Queen was just as good . . . if you like pancakes after dinner.

During the week end, Linda Hotchkiss had a luncheon with a double purpose. It was Chrissy Voll's birthday (Happy Birthday), and it was also a celebration on the return of Gale St. John, whom everyone was glad to see. Those there were Chrissy Vall, Gale St. John, Carol Meyer, Sharon Huebschwerlen, Karen Nattress, Gale Baker, Chris Campbell, Bonne Brooks and Joanne Boysen.

Some lucky Miramonteens went a-travelin' over the holidays. Just a few of the sun-tanned, lei adorned, and sombrero-crazy people are Steve Douglass and John and Dave Lackey, who visited Mexico, and Fran Obrecht and Bob Lyman who spent their time basking in the warm Hawaiian sun.

Music Maestro, please . . .

The Christmas tree is gone but the melody lingers on in the household of Maurice and Jerrie Anger (pronounced Onger).

MAESTRO Maurice (as in Chevalier), who resembles pianist Andre Previn in manner and looks as well as at the ivory keyboard, is well known in the Bay Area NOT as the leader waving the baton but as that nimble-fingered fellow at the front of the grand.

A PIANO prodigy at an early childhood age, the native Bay Arean's musical career got a sound send-off from his European parents who were steeped in the school of classical music. Anger's grandfather was director of the Royal Opera House at Prague.

During high school at the former University High School, he organized his first group of musicians and played his melodious way through the University of California from where he graduated in 1940.

A long-standing favorite with Bay Areans, his orchestra has played all the major hotels, bashes and balls while his small combos have done the fashion show and society party circuit.

His topsy-turvy life doesn't daunt wife Jerrie who is a professional musician too, and the rest of the family is used to father's somewhat reverse-suburbanite schedule. He arises around 11 after a late evening of playing (nightly) at the French Corner of Hilton Inn at San Francisco Airport where his music has been charming the dancing shoes of the jet set for the past two years.

ANGER'S afternoons are occupied with piano instruction with his pupils and then there's constant practicing at home to improvise on the danceable modern arrangements and orchestration.

Member of a revered local club that culls its members from the top of the entertainment field, he is part of a troupe that does annual benefit shows for special charities. It was this special troupe that won for Maurice in Phoenix, Arizona, the "Golden Boy Award" given by the Boys' Clubs of America.

"SING along with Jerrie" sums up Mrs. Anger's happy disposition in a home where everything centers around music. The couple's two younger children, Adrienne, 9, and Randy, 11, made their official debut into the entertainment field this past week when they did song numbers from "Oliver" at the SF spring showing of children's fashions at the Whitcomb Hotel.

They were well-tutored by their mom whose professional singing career probably began back in Salt Lake where she was born. Simultaneously she studied voice in San Francisco and worked at the major radio stations where she met her musician husband.

SHE SINGS with her huszand's troupe as well as at the Hilton Inn occasionally when a special show is on and applause should still be ringing in her ears from the recent Republican Razzle-Dazzle theater party at Rheem. She was the hit of the evening!

Jerrie is a member of the Women's Auxiliary of Lombardy Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Son Rick, a Miramonte sophomore, studies piano in a serious way and Adrienne enjoys the same but not so seriously, while Randy plays the clarinet. There's music in the air anytime at 20 Altamount Drive and if you listen real hard, it might just float over your way.

3 New Eagles...

Explorer Scouts Robert Lee and Charles Eldred were honored at a recent Eagle Court of Honor attended by a large number of friends, family and members of Troop 207 with which the Explorer Post is affiliated.

Charles is the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Eldred, 34 El Toyonal, Orinda. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lee, 43 Acacia Drive, Orinda.

Officiating at the Court of Honor were Or-La-Mo District Scout Executive Bud Lee and Post 307 Advisor William Gilmore.

Both boys are juniors at Miramonte High School and have held important offices with Troop 207 and Post 307.

Bob is also officer of the Order of the Arrow, an honorary scout organization. He has been in scouting continuously since he joined the Cub Scouts at the age of eight.

Charles did not join the Boy Scoutts until about three years ago at which time he was an invited guest at the Eagle Court of Honor for Steve Cantrill of Orinda.

That ceremony so inspired him that he joined the scouts determined to become an Ealge also.

Eagle Scouts Steve Cantrill, Ron Winkler, Rich Roos and Doug Fastabend assisted in the ceremony as did other Post 307 members, Mike Kersten, Mike and Tom Gilmore, Bill Lee, Garry Coleman, Steve Douglass, Bill Loughman, John Simpson and Dave Williams.

Brian Moriarty will receive Eagle Scout Award Monday at a special Court of Honor in Orinda.

Brian appeared before an Eagle board of review last month and was qualified as an Eagle Scout. This award is the culmination of seven years of scouting and the achievement of many other awards.

BRIAN HAS steadily advanced through the ranks of scouting since he joined the Cub Scouts in November, 1955.

After receiving his Weblos as Cub, he joined Troop 247 in November, 1958. He earned his first class rank in May, 1960. Then he started on the road towards his Eagle.

IN APRIL, 1961, he had earned the rank of Star Scout. In February, 1962, Brian attained the rank of Life Scout. Thus, he reached the final step before reaching his Eagle.

He was one of seven boys on the LaMorinda Thunderbirds team to receive an award.

Brian received the annual coaches' Joe Dame Memorial Award for 1961 for the player who provides the best inspiration to his teammates.

A Miramonte High School sophomore, Brian played tackle for the T-Birds.

During his scouting career, Brian served in a number of leadership positions in the troop.

He is presently an instructor to younger scouts in both tenderfoot requirements and cooking techniques.

BRIAN IS also a member of Explorers Post 347 where he is applying his hobby of electronics in the post's radio project.

There are many other boys in scouting who have earned either merit badges or a higher rank on their road to achieving the rank of Eagle Scout.

Where Your Easter Seal Donations Went: Report

An increase in services to crippled children and adults in Contra Costa County was reported last week by the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa was reported recently by the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County.

Mrs. Ardis Loonie, executive director, said 240 persons were provided with rehabilitation services during the past year. Of the total, 138 were children.

Working under the supervision of the Medical-Professional Advisory Council headed by Dr. Ray Poindexter, the Contra Costa County Easter Seal affiliate offered vocational rehabilitation social service, recreation, summer camping, and equipment loan closet services to crippled persons.

LAST SUMMER the society, in co-sponsorship with the Cerebal Palsy Society of West Contra Costa County participated in an evaluation program for four multiple handicapped young persons.

The four young adults, pupils of Cameron School, are now attending Easter Seal workshop sessions one school day per week.

Programs for parents of handicapped children were given greater emphasis during the year, the executive director said. A six weeks course on vocational needs of the handicapped was offered to parents, and consultation services were given to parent groups planning parent education programs.

A training course was provided teenagers who volunteered baby sitting service for handicapped children. Registration of parents requiring baby sitter services has been coordinated through the Contra Costa County Easter Seal Society.

IN AUGUST the Easter Seal Society sponsored the formation of the parent group information exchange council. Currently, the society counsels groups of parents of multiple handicapped children.

Support for services of the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County comes largely from contributions made during the annual Easter Seal appeal.

1962 campaign receipts were $23,511.00, most of which was used to help crippled children and adults of Contra Costa County.

Some funds raised in Contra Costa County are earmarked for research into causes of crippling and improved methods of rehabilitating handicapped persons.

Rousseau Opens Realty Office In Lafayette

F. R. Rousseau has opened a realty office in Lafayette at 3687 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Rousseau was manager of Ross and Knight, realtors, in Lafayette for the past year and a half.

The new firm will specialize in local commercial and residential properties.

Rousseau has lived at 4132 Los Arabis Drive for the past three years.

He is married and has two children.

News Editor Appointed

Terry Hansen, Bay Area newspaperman for the past 10 years, has been named news editor of the Lafayette Sun, it was announced this week by Herman Silverman, Sun editor-publisher.

He succeeds George Colburn who has been appointed associate editor of the four Sun newspapers.

Prior to joining The Sun, Hansen worked in the editorial departments of the San Francisco News and Berkeley Daily Gazette.

On both newspapers he won several awards.

While with the San Francisco News he won the State Bar of California's top award for freeing a man wrongly committed to prison, plus several national awards of the Scripps-Howard chain.

He won a San Francisco Press Club award while with the Berkeley newspaper.

His series of articles on welfare costs—particularly as they applied to persons illegally using the Aid-to-Needy Children program—resulted in the State of California making its initial start of many investigations.

Hansen has been in the publicity business for the past year.

Emerald Service Pin to Krumvieda

Eugene C. Krumvieda of Walnut Creek, was presented with an emerald service pin recently, in token of his 15 years with Shell Oil Company.

He is credit manager of the Ammonia Division of Shell Chemical Company, a division of Shell Oil, located in San Francisco.

Why Lose Good Public Servant?

The reappointment of a county fire district commissioner or any other public official is not justified merely on the basis that he is an incumbent. But failure to reappoint him when his past record is excellent is also open to question.

The county supervisors in appointing or reappointing fire commissioners generally follow the recommendation of the supervisors in whose area the fire district is located. When Orinda Fire Commissioner Zach Montgomery's term was expiring, they looked to Supervisor Mel Nielsen.

In recommending a different person, Nielsen merely said, "I have my own personal reasons for not making the appointment."

AGAINST THIS is Montgomery's record—he has for two years been president of the Contra Costa County Fire Commissioners Association, and it was expected that he would be re-elected again.

He has been an Orinda Fire District commissioner for 12 years, and was at one time president of the Orinda Association, the most responsible post in Orinda, and chairman of the Orinda Civic Affairs Committee.

In representing the Fire Commissioners Association and the Orinda Fire District, Montgomery often was at odds with the Board of Supervisors and other groups. This was his job—representing the true views of the group which elected him.

The jobs have been without pay, except for some expense money, and thankless.

IT IS A SUPERVISOR'S job where reappointment of a fire commissioner is concerned to remove him if he is incompetent, but there has been no indication in our knowledge that Montgomery is anything but an excellent commissioner.

Although the fact that Montgomery supported General Wallace against Nielsen in Nielsen's first supervisorial campaign may not be pertinent here, it is known that Nielsen and Montgomery did not get along, and on the basis of evidence available, this appears to be the only basis for discontinuing the services of an able public servant.

Perhaps it is the supervisor's duty to terminate an appointment official merely on this basis, in the name of working harmony. But we believe the best official thinks independently and truly represents the people in his district.

FREQUENTLY DISCUSSED in relation to this development is the fact that Orinda Fire District has shown interest in autonomy, as made possible under procedures allowed by a 1959 state law.

This law makes it possible for fire districts now under county control (including all in our central county except Lafayette District which is now autonomous) to break away. It is known that Nielsen has been active in the close supervision of local fire districts.

This comment is not intended to reflect unfavorably upon the new appointee, Edwin Clark, who we are sure will do a good job.

Wonderful Music And It's Free!

Certainly, The Sun's Music Night, presenting a full-scale dress rehearsal of the famed San Francisco Operatic Quartet, is a marvelous opportunity for the entire family to enjoy a priceless experience, and for free.

Bring your spouse and your children—the program is varied, and includes the spirited music which has become a part of our musical heritage!

The Sun has sponsored many local community events in the past, all of them especially aimed at the entire family, enabling all family members to enjoy a memorable event together.

Still remembered are The Sun's community service programs such as the fathers and kids basketball nights, rifle safety nights, the outdoor concert night featuring the U. S. Marine Corps band and others.

Check this edition's first section for more information about the "Music Night," which begins tonight at 8 p.m. at Acalanes High School auditorium.

Retarded Clinic— A Worthy Goal

It is important that this county put its best foot forward in discussions with the state about the possibility of locating a multi-million dollar clinic for the mentally retarded in this area.

Contra Costa County is competing with three other counties for this facility—others are San Francisco, Los Angeles and Santa Clara.

Such a clinic, which would make possible the treatment of mentally retarded persons with in-patient facilities without state hospitalization, would be a feather in the cap of successful county.

What can we as individuals do to help forward our own county's cause? We will look to the committee appointed by the local Mental Health Association for guidance in this respect.

Certainly Contra Costa County would be an ideal location for such a clinic, being within a few minutes of the metropolitan centers of the Bay Area, and having itself plenty of room for choice of site and development of facilities—also having housing facilities for staff personnel.

We Like It Here . . .

Stop the car! He wants to get out!

By MARIE MONAHAN

I AM learning to drive. All over again.

What I mean is that I have been driving for twenty years and now I find out I've been driving ALL WRONG . . . Can you imagine?

There must certainly be a lot of other ladies like me.

Typical women drivers, we call ourselves.

The man in the gas station said there are no typical women drivers.

They're all very unique and different, he exclaimed, pouring water into the steaming innards of my overheated station wagon.

THE REASON for learning to drive all over again rather took me by surprise.

It all came about when my son signed up for driver training at his high school.

The driver training course is widely used in California and considered the wisest way of teaching young motorists the ropes of the open road.

Driver training is better than a fidgety father. Or a nervous mother.

This is what insurance companies have deduced by statistics.

The kids learn it all very calmly under the expert supervision of a fearless instructor in a special car equipped with dual brakes.

UNFORTUNATELY, our family auto does not have these little safeguards.

Our car comes equipped with footballs bouncing around in the back seat.

Or dual children having duels.

Or soggy icecream cones. Our schoolbooks sliding around on the floor.

BUT ALAS, no dual controls. No special brakes.

It takes a strong woman to sit at the helm of a car like that, I keep telling my children. (SHUT UP! Be quiet! STOP throwing that ball!)

Anyhow, I am learning to drive all over again now that our young man is seeking the status symbol of all prospective 16-year olds—a driver's license.

For the past few years, he's yearned for a Hondo motorcycle.

Now, suddenly, he has visions of a Jaguar-XKE. Which adds up to a lot of paper route collecting & window-washing.

LET the young man dream. I am proud of him.

He sits behind the wheel of our wagon like he bought it himself.

Very straight & commanding. Hair slicked, eyes smiling, manner smugly superior.

BUT he's already a better driver than me . . . & he's a better driver than a PASSENGER!

When he is a passenger nowadays, I can hardly stand it!

"MOTHER! Please! STOP riding the clutch!"

"Mother! HE had the right of way . . ."

"For Gosh Sakes, Mom! Don't ride the brake, too!"

"Mother . . . do you know you just pulled into the wrong lane?"

"Honestly, Mom! Can't you keep on YOUR side of the road?"

WELL! The worse I've had in 20 years at the wheel is a few squashed fenders. But now the boy wonders how he possibly survived all those years I chauffeured him around.

I tell you, it's enough to make you start learning to drive all over again. Which is what I'm doing.

Under the expert supervision of my son, my son, a student in the Driver Training program . . . & you want to make a wager with me?

He'll settle for something less than that Jag-XKE real soon . . .

LIKE maybe a certain beat-up station wagon, maybe, hmmmm?

STAND UP
Dear Editor:

I have read your editorial on all-digit dialing and want to compliment you on the finest prose you have produced in the 5 months I have been a subscriber.

It seems entirely appropriate to the whole anti-digit dialing campaign that this subject should have inspired such a lucid and courageous stand when you have successfully beclouded every serious issue and consistently straddled the fence on issues where strong men must stand up and be counted.

In this "age of the overkill" when we are all threatened with nuclear holocaust, under pressures from a conformist society, and trying to live constructively in a modern, technological society, it seems sad to see strong men with good minds turn from the really basic issues to take a stand on all-digit dialing.

I think it is deplorable that it is more difficult to arouse public interest in elections, taxes, rapid transit and peace, than it is to stir them into action on such trivia as all-digit dialing.

MRS.
DOROTHY B. ROSENTHAL

PEACE-STRIKE
Dear Editor:

Possibly your reader Mr. Kendall, who feels the HUAC is intimidating the Women Strike for Peace by investigating the motives of some of its members should read the words of the Communist Dimitry A. Manuilsky, who said in 1930:

"War to the hilt between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable . . . The bourgeois will have to be put to sleep, so we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record.

"There will be electrifying overtures and unheard of concessions. The capitalist countries, stupid and decent will rejoice to cooperate in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends.

"As soon as their guard is down, we shal smash them with our clinched fist."

MRS. F. R. EDWARDS

THE "MAN"
Dear Editor:

For some time I have been wondering how I could thank personally the many people who helped with the recent fund-raising effort for the Lafayette Community Chest.

I was beaten to the punch when the "Man of the Year" selection was made and I am grateful for the honor.

I know that great credit goes to the many who assisted and showed interest in our efforts and through the medium of your publication may I express my sincere thanks to all.

JOSEPH P. VAN OVERVEEN

DOGGEREL
Dear Editor:

At the beginning of this new year,/ We are taking time out right here,/ To thank you and your excellent staff,/ For courtesies extended on our behalf.

Our buying was made easier in '62—/ It's been a pleasure doing business with you.

How Special Were My Districts??

By WALT WRIGHT

Where do you stand on special districts? Better yet, in what special districts do you stand?

The very fact that you would have difficulty answering the latter question makes the former of great importance throughout the mid-county area.

While The Sun staff works on this complex jurisdictional, geographical and simply mathematical problem, here are a few notes from this corner, gleaned from a University of California Bureau of Governmental Studies report.

Over 2000 autonomous special districts serve unincorporated communities in the nine counties of the Bay Area alone.

LOGICALLY, districts for fire protection, water, burial, police protection, recreation and libraries, to name only a few, form a jurisdictional maze in both cities and unincorporated areas.

For both cities and areas planning to become cities, the problems posed by special districts may be barriers to orderly development and government.

Among these problems, according to a report by Stanley Scott (Lafayette resident), assistant director of the U. C. Bureau, and research assistant John Corzine, are the following:

"Most citizens are completely unaware of the districts to which they pay taxes and from which they receive services."

"ELECTIONS (in special tricts) are cancelled more often than not because seats on the board are not contested."

"Lacking the counterweight of active citizen interest . . . employees are relatively free to influence decisions affecting the district . . . especially in preventing district consolidation or dissolution, as well as keeping an area from being annexed or incorporated."

"Perhaps the most serious problem . . . is (the districts') adverse effect on . . . local government . . . Overly permissive district enabling legislation . . . has encouraged the growth of a chaotic, second-rate system of local government areas. . . ."

"PARADOXICALLY, it is too easy to create special districts and too difficult to dissolve them . . . The crust of districts . . . surrounding existing cities often poses serious, even insurmountable legal and political obstacles to orderly annexation or incorporation."

The state legislature will be the scene of much debate on special districts this year. Many governmental agencies, including the City of Walnut Creek—at the urging of Councilman Frank Driscoll—have gone on record asking for study of special district legislation.

Such study might lead to some of the solutions to special district problems suggested by Scott and Corzine:

1. PASSAGE of legislation making it easier for special districts to be dissolved, or for counties or annexing cities to absorb them.

2. Prohibition of the formation of new districts wherever city or county government could provide services desired.

3. Passage of legislation bringing all autonomous districts under the policy control of the board of supervisors.

4. Improvement and use of the County Service Area Law, under which services can be provided by the counties, and special districts will not need to be established.

5. Passage of legislation making all district programs and budgets subject to review and adjustment by the county board of supervisors.

6. Simplification and consolidation of special district enabling legislation.

When and if you find out where you are in the district maze, you might look into the costs of your location.

While county property taxes are $2.35 per $100 assessed valuation, Contra Costans pay between 50 cents and $4 for the services of their many, mysterious, very special districts.

The problems of special districts are financial as well as governmental. Scott and Corzine also pointed out that "districts suffer from a number of physical handicaps which may make it more difficult to finance services through districts than through city government or some other way."

"Most districts must rely almost solely on the over-burdened property tax for revenue.

Under The Sun

Snoopy May Join Sun's Holiday to the Orient

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

"Hey, boss, why are you reading that travel folder? You're not planning to write another column on travel, are you?"

It's Snoopy, the office cat.

Listen, Snoop, the wonderful virtue of a newspaper is that no one has to read anything he doesn't want to. The Sun is not like TV. You can merely turn the page.

But, Snoopy, I thought you might be interested in some background on The Sun Orient Holiday—our April 18 expedition to Japan, Hong Kong and southeast Asia. You wnat to come along with a limited number of local residents?

"Well, if you really mean it, boss," Snoopy answered, "I might finish reading your column. But why is The Sun's trip better than others being offered?"

He ell into the trap

Snoop, old boy, that's the question I wanted you to ask.

First, The Sun is not in the travel business — although every now and then I begin to wonder. Eleanor and I have spent literally months working on this trip to the Far East. We decided to sponsor the trip only if it is superior to anything available — in price, service, itinerary, with top-flight accommodations.

We determined that our trip next spring will be even better than "The Sun's Hawaii Holiday" two years ago and "The Sun's Jubilee Holiday to Europe" last summer.

Travel is our hobby: newspapering is our business — so we have a wonderful opportunity to combine them. Because we are able to arrange, publicize and advertise the trips, many dollars are saved and passed on to those of you who have the time (and money) to take them. And the arm-chair traveler seems to enjoy reading the stories.

I have been most impressed with the fact that so many of our readers are not waiting until "someday" to travel. They say, "Why not travel while we are young enough to enjoy it?"

But I'm off the subject.

You can save dollars

You cannot match our Orient trip for $100 more, even though some trip folders indicate a similar price. Why? For one thing, our price includes an increase in air fare effective next April. Secondly, the hotels we have chosen are all deluxe or first class—and with the best rooms in these hotels. We could shave the price by many dollars by offering rooms in the "old wings" of the hotels. This is a poor economy.

In Singapore, on the eight-day extension, we are paying one-half day extra to the hotel, so that our group doesn't have to check out by noon. You see, our plane leaves after dinner, so it's rather nice to be able to use the hotel late.

Some tours offer only "skeleton" sightseeing in the various cities. Our trip offers much more.

We are purposely not including most meals. All breakfasts and some other meals are included, but we have learned that everyone enjoys it more not having to eat where and when specified.

All tips and all handling of luggage are included. We insisted on this. It is wonderful to walk into your hotel room and find your luggage.

Why go on a tour?

Some people say they don't "like a tour." I have traveled on an individual basis and on tours and know the advantages of both. You spend many hours each day, when you are on your own, worrying about languages, baggage, reservations and time tables. These are valuable hours that can otherwise be devoted to sightseeing and fun. Sun Orient Holiday, however, has been designed to permit much individual exploration. And you save hundreds of dollars by traveling with a group.

Even when you travel alone, almost all your sightseeing is done with tour groups in each area. If you go sightseeing in Tokyo tomorrow, your agent will have bought you a town tour on the Pigeon bus.

We have had great fun working on the itinerary. For example, we leave the beautiful Hakone-Fuji area and travel just a few hours to Atami. Very few tours take you to Atami, a seaside resort on the Japanese Riviera. We checked this carefully with Pacific Pathways, the San Francisco concern which handles the land portion. Boyd Madison agreed that it would be great fun staying in a Japanese Inn at Atami. So we are.

So have fun, too. Come along for two weeks or three weeks or four weeks. Call Eleanor or me today and we'll tell you more about it.

"Enjoyed your sermon, Reverend—you and I feel exactly the same about the way George acts."

'A Date with Raitt'

By MARIE MONAHAN

A date with Raitt is what a lot of local ladies of the Oakland Junior League will have in February. But they've generously invited a host of friends along, as well as their husbands, to meet the musical comedy and television star who'll be the big attraction at the League's two-nighter Charity Ball slated for February 8th and 9th at Goodman's Jack London Hal in Oakland.

The benefit party, a voluminous Valentine to Oakland's Community Trust Fund whose coffers will be swelled by the super-soiree, is allready almost a complete sell-out.

The popular Mr. Raitt is the extra fillip to a full evening that will gather black-tie guests at 6:30 for a cocktail hour to be followed by dinner. Post-dinner entertainment will be provided by the much sought-after celebrity song star who has many friends in the Bay Area and will stay with Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Jenkins of Piedmont during his visit here. Music for cocktail and dinner dancing will be provided by Ernie Heckscher and his orchestra.

Among local League members assisting in plans for the two-nighter gala are Mrs. Johnson M. Clark of Lafayette who'll turn her artistic talents to the decorations department; and Mrs. Richmond Stampley of Orinda, popular model of many Junior League functions, who'll assist with the fashion promenade.

Proceeds from the ball will go to the aforementioned trust fund which supports Educational Horizons, The Oakland Symphony, Children's Opera Hour, Neighborhood House, Richmond, Junior Center of Art and Science, Mobile Unit of the Junior Center of Art and Science, KQED—the Bay Area educational television station, and the new Speech and Hearing Clinic of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Women in The Sun

Bertolero To Speak to Lafayette Women's Club

The Lafayette Women's Club will resume their club activities Tuesday, at noon, at the Veteran's Memorial Building in Lafayette. A luncheon will be followed by a short business meeting and a program.

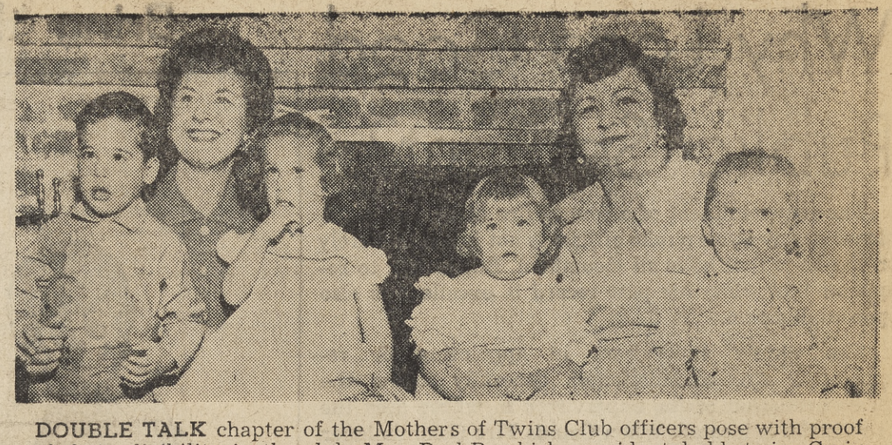
Speaker for the affair will be Bert Bertolero, distinguished author and columnist, and the owner of Navlet Nurseriese in Concord and Oakland.

Bertolero is the author of the garden column "Thanks for Asking." Frequently he appears on radio and television.

He has served two terms as president of the Nurseryman's Association's. His name is listed in "Who's Who."

He has always taken great pride in community development, and serves on the board of directors of San Francisco College and on a scholarship committee at San Luis Obispo College.

The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Warren E. Danforth, president, with Mrs. Harold E. Mutnick in charge of luncheon arrangements.



DOUBLE TALK chapter of the Mothers of Twins Club officers pose with proof of their eligibility in the club. Mrs. Rod Bambich, president, holds twins Craig and Lisa. Mrs. Morris Faulkenberry, membership chairman, holds twins Tabor and Vimae.

Holy Names Mothers Club Plans Lunch

The Holy Names High School Mothers' Club will sponsor a luncheon at Mike Lynn's Restaurant, Orinda, January 24 at 12 noon.

Mrs. Thomas J. Stack, chairman, promises a delightful post-holiday luncheon, plus an entertaining fashion show featuring Charlene's or Orinda. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Stack at CL. 4-3004.

The chairman has selected to hostess the luncheon the following prominent local matrons: the Mesdames Frank Mazetti, William W. Billings, Armand Guibert, Donald J. Hess, George E. King and George E. Peterson.

Double Talk Club Will Have Dinner Installation

Mrs. R. J. Bambach of Walnut Creek will be seated as president of Double Talk Club, mothers of twins of East Contra Costa County at an installation dinner Wednesday evening at Roots in Concord.

The officers from Concord to be installed are Mrs. Carl West, vice-president; Mrs. Mooris Faulkenberry, membership secretary; Mrs. Robert Peterson, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Moyer, coordinator, and Mrs. F. H. Mashburn of Pleasant Hill as corresponding secretary.

Recording secretary will be Mrs. Lloyd La Duke of Walnut Creek.

Parliamentarian will be Mrs. G. J. Ghiselli of Lafayette and Mrs. Tony Freitas of Danville will hold the office of historian.

Officiating at the candlelight ceremony will be Mrs. A. M. Krohn, founder and charter president of Double Talk Club.

According to Mrs. Fred Janes, publicity chairman, the social hour will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner at 8 o'clock.

All mothers of twins interested in more information about Double Talk Club are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

To make reservations, call Mrs. Carl West 682-9013 or Mrs. Morris Faulkenberry 686-2684.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD RICHARD LIPPERT
(Diane Jean Bothun)
Walnut Creek couple exchange vows

Diane Bothun and Donald Lippert Exchange Vows

Diane Jean Bothun was a beautiful brunette bride as she was joined in marriage recently with Donald Richard Lippert. The Rev. Stoddard performed the service recently at 2 p.m. at Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

The reception, which followed immediately, was also at the church. Two large baskets with white stock and green foliage were used as floral decor for the wedding and reception.

Diane is the daughter of Mrs. Lois Jean Bothun, 1375 Creekside Drive, Walnut Creek. L. Dale Wright gave the bride away.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Lippert, 1111 Studebaker Road, Walnut Creek.

Maid of honor was Linda Arentz of Walnut Creek. Bridesmaids were Louise De Biasi, Walnut Creek, and Joy Havens, El Cerrito.

Best man was Steve Jordan of Lafayete. Ushers were Dave Kennedy and Doug Bothun, both of Walnut Creek. Doug is the brother of the bride.

Both Diane and Donald attended Diablo Valley College.

Diane's gown was full length white satin with an overskirt of embroidered lace. The sleeves were long, coming to a V. The back of the gown had a slight train which was gathered into a bustle for the reception.

The shoulder-length veil was held by a pearl crown. The bridal bouquet was of white gardenias tied with white satin ribbon.

After a honeymoon at Highland Inn, Carmel, the newlyweds returned to an apartment at 959 Hough Street, Lafayette.

Symphony Guild Starts New Year With Bang

The dynamic and active women, over 250 strong, (with many Contra Costa members), making up the Oakland Symphony Guild proceed with vigor into the New Year supporting their cause, the Oakland Symphony Orchestra.

With the successful "Allegro Ball" benefit behind them they anticipate the events of the near future, leading up to the young artist competition winner's Debut Recital, January 29. The 1963 competition will be aired over KQED. The spring fashion show will be held at night this year, February 20, followed by the annual rummage sales, April 5.

Localites Trek To the Islands For Holidays

Many Diablo Valley area residents enjoyed an Hawaiian Christmas holiday. The family tour was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. William Worden and their children, Sharon and Bill.

Among the localites who left December 24 and returned January 2 were: Walter and Louise Meima and Katherine, Lafayette; Wallace Fernandez, Lafayette; Joy and William Frank and Jan, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Hazel Austin, Pleasant Hill; Robert and Betty Lyman and Bob, Jr., Orinda; Ragner and Esther Monson, Lafayette; Irene and Edwin Morris, with Donald and Margaret, Lafayette; Frank Spingola, Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. Fogel Given Gavel

Mrs. Richard H. Fogel received the president's gavel of Junior Alliance of Lincoln Child Center from Mrs. James Soper at an installation luncheon at the Orinda Country Club Tuesday.

Elected to serve with Mrs. Fogel is Mrs. Wallace Haggland, first vice president. Mrs. Haggland is a new resident of Orinda, formerly of Montclair.

Other officers are Mesdames Ronald Paul Tomsic of Oakland, second vice president; Gene Gordon Saalwaechter of Berkeley, recording secretary; Stanley Stetson of Piedmont, corresponding secretary; Marvin M. Grove of Piedmont, treasurer.

Contra Costa women who have accepted appointive positions are Mesdames James D. Kaufman of Walnut Creek, social; Donald E. Anderson of Orinda, building and grounds representative; James C. Rieswerts, luncheon reservations, also of Orinda; Bernard L. Caldwell of Lafayette, United Crusade; Charles Henry Hansen, Jr. of Orinda, bridge; Herbert S. Smith of Lafayette, Bee Hive; John W. Martsoff of Orinda, special occasions.

The philanthropic organization is planning their Mayfair Fashion Show and their annual fall event. The fashion show is scheduled for May 2 and will be held at the Claremont Hotel.

Proceeds from these events will benefit Lincoln Child Center. The center is a long established East Bay agency which offers aid to emotionally disturbed children and their families.

Diablo Nile Club No. 8 Plans Dinner

A dinner and entertainment honoring Mrs. Helen Horn of Oakland, reigning queen of Nefru Ari Temple, No. 17, Daughters of the Nile will be held Thursday at 7 o'clock, when Mrs. Horn will make her official visit to Diablo Nile Club No. 8.

According to Mrs. John W. Kirby of Antioch, president of the club, the affair is in charge of Mrs. Sydney Munro of Orinda, vice-president.

Her committee includes Mrs. James Thornton, Pacheco; Mrs. C. B. Holman, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Harold Stengel, Lafayette; Mrs. Frank Kupper, Alamo and Mrs. H. E. Page of Walnut Creek, all past presidents of the club.

Reservations for dinner are to be made with Mrs. Stengel, to which Daughters of the Nile members in the East Bay are invited.

Board Entertained

Mrs. James Soper recently entertained at luncheon the board members of Junior Alliance of Lincoln Guild Center.

Mrs. Soper, outgoing president thanked her many aides for their assistance.

Alamo Hostess

Hostess for the January meeting of the San Ramonettes at noon Tuesday was Jane Keyes, 109 La Sonoma Way, Alamo.

THREE COFFEES were given by the Orinda-Moraga Welcome Wagon Club for their January meeting. Discussing plans for the coffees given in their homes are: left to right, Mrs. Kenneth Archer, 110 Estates Drive; Mrs. Eugene Sullivan, 8 Rae Drive; Mrs. Lynn Anderson, 123 Donald Drive.

Ahwahnee Keeps Busy

Ahwahnee Guild of John Muir Memorial Hospital culminated its 1962 activities with a gala party at Treasure Island for members and their husbands. Several new members attended.

Guild members had been busy during the month of December staffing the "Garrett," the all-guild operated thrift shop located on Mt. Diablo Boulevard. All proceeds benefit the John Muir Memorial Hospital.

New members recently welcomed are Mesdames Roland Guisti, Joseph Capraro, Erwin Anthofer, T. B. Coull, Jr., H. B. Aines, all of Walnut Creek and Mrs. John H. Bromley of Concord.

Mrs. Fred Sanders, popular outgoing president, together with Mrs. Thomas Hasper made arrangements for the installation luncheon Thursday at the Round Hill Country Club.

The table was decorated with a charming arrangement of red and white flowers. Outgoing Vice-President Mrs. Elton McVey, Secretary Mrs. Thomas Hasper, Treasurer Mrs. Robert Burton, Parliamentarian Mrs. Robert Schroder and Corresponding Secretary and Publicity Chairman Mrs. Jack H. Skinner presented incoming officers with appropriate guild records.

Accepting the gavel from Mrs. Fred Sanders was Mrs. James McElroy, incoming president.

Other officers for 1963 will be Mrs. John Heagney, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Hansen, secretary, and Mrs. Arthur Winship, treasurer.

Each member of Ahwahnee Guild received a clever moemento in keeping with her outstanding contribution to the guild during the past year.

Among those enjoying the luncheon and conversing on new year activities were members Mesdames Reed Bells, Charles Winter, W. L. Umstead, John Kalberg, Tudor Jones, Marion Hvidt, Benjamin Clarke, Laird Durham, Beckford Horne, Lloyd King, A. M. Rabun, and Ben Tamplin.

Stephen Syverud Claims Bride From San Anselmo

Stewart Memorial Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo was the setting, December 18 for the marriage of Christine Anne Steiger and Stephen L. Syverud.

Christine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Steiger of San Rafael. She graduated from San Rafael High School and is a senior at San Francisco State College.

Stephen's parents are the Reverend and Mrs. A. S. Syverud of 30 Broadview Terrace, Orinda. Stephen is a graduate of Acalanes High School. He served two years in the Navy aboard the tanker "Chemung."

Stephen will complete his work for his B.A. at S. F. State this month and will continue his studies for a teaching credential and a master's degree in music composition.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony were the father of the groom, the Rev. Syverud, executive director of Lutheran Welfare for Northern California, and the Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger of Trinity Lutheran Church, San Rafael.

When the bride was escorted to the altar by her father, she was wearing a full length gown of white satin brocade. It was fashioned with a bell skirt and detachable square train.

Her gown was hand sewn and styled by her mother. Christine wore a cloud veil attached to a lace crown trimmed in pearls. She carried a white satin prayer book which the groom's mother had carried at her wedding.

The bridal bouquet covering the book was of white roses and stephanotis. Christine wore her mother's cameo pin.

Elaine Akuda of Honolulu was honor attendant.

Barbara Syverud, the bridegroom's sister, a student at St. Olaf College in Minnesota, and Genelle Steiger, the bride's sister, of San Rafael were bridemaids.

The attendants were gowned identically in green-blue satin brocades in princess style. They wore white orchid shoulder corsages and carried white fur muffs.

Flower girl Madelyn Mansone of San Rafael wore a flared red velveteen dress trimmed in white lace. She carried a miniature white muff.

Clell Swanson of Berkeley was best man. Ushers were Ernie Petrucci of Lafayette and Tucker Zimmerman of San Francisco.

Mrs. Steiger wore a moss green velveteen suit with matching hat and accessories.

The groom's mother wore a chiffon sheath with blue flowered hat and beige accessories.

Special music for the ceremony was composed by the groom. He put I Corinthians, 13th chapter, to music. It was read by Mrs. Rue Knapp, instructor of drama at S. F. State.

Instrumentalists providing the accompaniment wer: Larry Vian, trumpet; John Bennet, violincello; and Ann Briley, horn.

Immediately after the wedding, a reception was held at Alexander Hall at the seminary.

They are now at home at 169 Arch Street, San Francisco.

Capt. Becker to Address D.A.R.

The Acalanes Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. Roy Heffner of Lafayette.

Co-hostesses for the 12:30 luncheon are Mrs. James Meddaugh and Mrs. Ray McNairy of Lafayette.

After the business meeting conducted by Mrs. George Hack of Berkeley, Program Chairman Mrs. Charles Keathley of Lafayette will introduce the guest speaker of the afternoon, Captain Alvin L. Becker. He will speak on "National Defense."

Alamo Women's Club Plans Card Section

Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Alamo Women's Clubhouse, members and their guests will arrange tables for the monthly card section get-together.

Mrs. R. T. Hughes is chairman and Mrs. Donald Hughes is co-chairman of this section.

Their project for this year is to give some San Ramon Valley Union High School graduate in June a scholarship of $200. Anyone wishing to donate may send contributions to the club's treasurer Mrs. R. F. Pendleton. Mark checks "Scholarship Fund."

Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. J. Vaughn Shahbazian, club president, presided over the January executive board meeting. It was followed at 1 p.m. by a business meeting. The tea commitee included Mrs. Leslie D. Aitken, chairman, assisted by Miss Jane Keyes, Mrs. Charles A. Butler and Mrs. R. C. Gleim.

'Top Secret' Program Is Set By Newcomers

A Wig Fashion Show promises to be the "Top Secret" of the luncheon of the Orinda Newcomers Club Wednesday at 12:30 at Robaire's in Oakland. Luncheon will be preceeded by a social hour.

Wigs will be shown by the following beauty salons: Belle Femme, and Ralph, Joseph and Owens of Walnut Creek, Bonnie's Beauty Salon of El Cerrito, and Lloyd's Studio "C" of San Pablo.

The program has been coordinated by Mary Maddox of Glamour Plus, Inc., of Oakland, who will also act as commentator.

The Newcomers Club is a social group open to all new residents of Orinda. Anyone interested, call Mrs. Albert Rodee, 376-4715.

Knits Will Be News at Terrace Tearoom Show

"Flawless taste in imported knits" will be demonstrated at the Therapy Center Terrace, Monday, during the weekly fashion-luncheon.

"La Mimosa," one of the newer specialty shops in Orinda, will show new 1963 styles in knitted dresses, suits, and slack outfits. Many of the fashions to be shown at noon, and again at 1 p.m., have been hand-loomed in Switzerland.

Mrs. Donald Smith of Lafayette, a member of the Cardinal Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, will organize the showing.

Mrs. Smith has recently been appointed fashion coordinator for the tearoom.

Models for this occasion include Mrs. Marguirite V. West of Lafayette, a sponsor of the Cardinal Unit; Mrs. Glen Hixon of Walnut Creek; and Mrs. Gil Meacham of Walnut Creek, a member of the Hummingbird Unit.

Fashion-luncheons are a traditional Monday occurrence at the Terrace which is located at 1475 East Newell Avenue in Walnut Creek.

Teen-age fashion-luncheons are held on the second Saturday of each month.

The tearoom offers facilities for luncheons, meetings, and bridge parties. Reservations and information may be obtained by calling 925-0121.

The Terrace is owned and operated by the 17 units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. All proceeds from the tearoom are donated to the rehabilitation programs of the center.

Flicker Unit Re-Elects Mrs. Ramelli

The Flicker Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center elected their officers for 1963 recently. The unit re-elected Mrs. Robert Ramelli, Walnut Creek, president.

Other officers elected at the meeting held in the home of Mrs. R. H. Smith, Pleasant Hill, were: Mrs. Calvin Scilacci, Walnut Creek, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Douglas, Concord, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. W. Derr, Concord, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Shryock, Pleasant Hill, treasurer.

Mrs. Ben Sargent, Walnut Creek, unit coordinating council representative, and Mrs. Richard Lieber, Walnut Creek, representative to board of directors.

The Flickers presented Mrs. Robert Ramelli with a gift for her leadership in 1962 and for accepting the office of president for 1963. Mrs. Ramelli thanked the group for its hard work and cooperation for the past year.

The unit held its Christmas meeting at the Therapy Terrace December 12. Among the 24 in attendance were new members, Mrs. Gerald Duarte, Pleasant Hill, and Mrs. Thomas Pillsbury, Walnut Creek. They were officially welcomed at this meeting.

The next Flicker meeting will be Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Stuart Wight, Walnut Creek. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Lawrence Bay and Mrs. Harold Vincent.

Projects for the year will be planned.

Sorority Notes

BETA SIGMA PHI

Kappa Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its Christmas Party December 19 at the beautifully decorated home of Mrs. Carl Maynard, 18 Kilgo Court, Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. Bill Oswald, social chairman, and Mrs. Dick Laudenslager served a lovely buffet lunch with holiday punch, after which there was a secret sister gift exchange.

Mrs. Ernie Muniz demonstrated the art of folding gay Christmas wrap which turned out to be a decorative swan.

Members brought gifts for Juvenile Hall.

The chapter members and guests under the sponsorship of American Legion Post 517 of Lafayette, welcomed the New Year with a very successful dance held at the Veterans Memorial Building. At 1 a.m., breakfast was served.

Mrs. Hal Ryan, ways and means chairman, wishes to announce that Kappa Tau Chapter will hold its annual rummage sale January 24 at the IOOF Hall, 2310 Salvio Street, Concord, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Slated for Thursday noon is a luncheon-meeting for members of the Gamma Phi Beta Mothers' Club, to be held at the home of Mrs. George F. Girot in San Rafael. It is a traditional affair for the mothers to meet in a private home for their January meeting, instead of the chapter house, while their daughters are hard at work on finals at the University of California.

Among the luncheon guests will be Mrs. Robert H. Bolman and Mrs. Joseph R. Quinn, both of Orinda. Special guest will be Mrs. John H. Clymer, housemother of the sorority.

A report will be given by Mrs. D. C. Steele of Berkeley on the Mothers' Club's Christmas gift to the sorority, which was the complete refurbishing of the Town Girls' Room.

Mrs. Paul C. Henshaw of Berkeley will preside at the business meeting.

Muir Auxiliary To Meet

The twelve guilds of the John Muir Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will convene for their annual meeting Monday at Mike Lynn's Orinda restaurant. The accomplishments of the Auxiliary's past year will be reviewed, new officers will be installed, and Hospital Administrator Ray F. Farwell will give a report on hospital building plans.

There will be a fashion show featuring creations and cast-offs from the Garrett, the guilds' thrift shop at 3331 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

"This showing will be from both haute coture and boutique collections" promises Mrs. Paul F. Winn, co-ordinator for this "first showing" which promises to set the fashion world (or anyone else for that matter) wildly agog.

Mrs. Frank E. Thomas as commentator will speak Harper's Bazaar words, with a French accent, for the occasion. Mais certainment!

Models will include the Mesdames Henry Dias, Robert Grieve, Adrian Gensoul, John A. Tagg, Roland Guisti, L. E. Fambrini, Robt. Keeney, Paul F. Winn, Herb Rowley, Neal Campbell and C. Boyd Handelin. Traditionally, as in all well-renowned fashion shows, the finale will be a bridal group.

To be installed as new Auxiliary president is Mrs. John Hutch of Pleasant Hill.

First vice-president will be Mrs. John Ransome; second vice-president, Mrs. J. A. McCarron; third vice-president, Mrs. Charles Scudder.

Secretary will be Mrs. William Egan; treasurer, Mrs. Sam Burks of Danville. Mrs. Herbert L. Christman will continue as the Guilds' Garrett treasurer.

Outgoing president, Mrs. Harold C. Bates of Moraga, who has led the Auxiliary for two years is enthusiastic in her praise of the efforts of the twelve guilds to help make Muir Hospital a reality.

"During these last three-and-one-half years the Auxiliary has become a positive and well-recognized force in the community, determined to secure something fine and good for our whole area—the new John Muir Memorial Hospital. Now we are about to actually see the fruits of our labors: the hospital is about to become a reality," said Mrs. Bates.

Building schedules are set to begin at the end of March. The four-and-one-half million hospital will be erected on Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek.

St. Bonaventure's Guild Plans Lunch

St. Bonaventure's Ladies Guild is sponsoring its sixth annual fashion show.

Mrs. Harold Delihant, president, announces the affair will be held on February 23, 1963, at the Concord Elks Club. The theme for the show will be artists and models.

Thomases Give Soiree at Squaw

Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Thomas of Alamo were co-hosts of a cocktail party New Year's eve at the Five Circles Club in Squaw Valley Lodge.

The Thomases spent Christmas and New Year's with their children at their cabin in the Olympic Valley. Their friends, Dr. and Mrs. High Carpol, of Woodside, gave the party with them.

Those who went to the valley over the holidays were disappointed in the snowless slopes. However, the setting was a happy place in which to have a happy new year.

The guest list included, from this side of the tunnel: Pat and Ralph Hill, Dr. and Mrs. George Redmond, all of Orinda and the E. Walton Kirks of Alamo.

Hold Meeting

The Walnut Creek Soroptimist Club heard a talk by Pat Rusk at their luncheon meeting yesterday at the Walnut Creek Inn. "Inside Juvenile Hall" was her topic.

Jr. Leaguer to Model at Ball

Junior Leaguer Mary French will be one of the models in the showing of ball-gowns which the league plans as a highlight of their charity balls, February 8 and 9.

The Ski Line . . .

When Skiers In Danger, Ski Patrol Saves Them

By HEC HANCOCK

Anyone who has skied to any extent is familiar, at least in a general way, with the National Ski Patrol.

Chances are that if you have skied over an extended number of years you're indebted in some respect to the National Ski Patrol for past services or favors.

You've seen them countless times on every slope that you've visited. In fact, you probably have a tendency to take them somewhat for granted. Much in the same manner many of us are prone to take doctors, policemen or firemen for granted. That is until a crisis should arise.

HOWEVER, once a catastrophe strikes on the mountain, you wish the slopes were literally crawling with the rust covered parkas that identify the members of the patrol.

The men and women that comprise the patrol wear their badge of honor. And well they might. Before they can qualify for the patrol, you have to pass a series of rigid qualifying tests in standard first aid, winterized first aid, field work and skiing proficiency. Once qualified, they serve without remuneration. It's just the satisfaction of doing a hard job that has to be done.

During the past year, a chapter of the National Ski Patrol, El Gran Diablo, has been established in Lafayette. Now boasting a membership of 50, the group is under the guidance of patrol leader, Carrol Currie.

The patrol meets the fourth Monday of every month at Stanley Intermediate School in Lafayette. New members are welcome, and anyone wishing further information can contact the group at meeting time.

Over the past weekend, members of the El Gran Diablo Patrol participated in a survival and avalanche control training exercise at Echo Summit.

Local participants included Lee Wellman of Walnut Creek. Cruz and Mareeta Ramirez of Martinez made a hardy husband and wife entry to brave the sub zero temperatures the group endured while camping out for the weekend.

Maybe now, you begin to get the idea that these are a rugged breed.

There's probably nothing more frustrating than writing a ski column week after week, when there is so little skiing to write about. The long Sierra snow drought continues and the prospects for skiing this weekend are pretty dismal. Only the slopes at the higher elevations have sufficient snow to sustain any action.

Heavenly Valley will operate lifts there this weekend. There is good skiing, but some work is being done to the slopes.

Mt. Shasta probably has the deepest pack available and will be operating this weekend.

Squaw Valley's Siberia Bowl has nearly 30 inches of snow and affords skiing for the intermediate and advanced skier.

Alpine Meadows will operate their chair lift. However, there are bare areas at the top and bottom that have to be traversed to get to the snow.

Sugar Bowl will continue to operate the Mt. Lincoln lift and the rope tows.

The point that should be stressed is that while skiing is available at these points, it leaves a great deal to be desired. As one resort operator put it, and he shall remain anonymous as a reward for his honesty, the available skiing just isn't worth the trip.

Oh well, maybe I'll regain my putting touch and kill 'em on the golf course.

Gaels Win First Game, Try for Second Tonight

The St. Mary's Gaels take on their second West Coast Athletic Conference opponent when they go up against the visiting San Jose State Spartans at 8 o'clock tonight at Oakland Auditorium.

After tonight's play, the Gaels will be off for two weeks, then they head for Pocatello and Idaho State on January 28.

Last Tuesday night the Moragans scored their first conference win by easily taking care of the University of Pacific, 87-73.

Steve Gray, the Gaels' top scorer, sat out the last 10 minutes of the game, but still led the field with 29 points.

The Gaels, making their first WCAC start, trailed only once, at 15-14 midway in the first half, held a 23-point lead with some nine minutes remaining in the game.

Joe Lee, St. Mary's diminutive guard, followed Gray with 14 points.

Each team missed 12 free throws.

DVC Opens League Play

Compiling a non-league 10-3 record, the Diablo Valley College Vikings open regular Golden Gate Conference play by tangling with Oakland City College on campus tonight. Tip-off time is 8 p.m.

Tomorrow night the Vikings travel down the San Francisco Peninsula to take on San Mateo College.

DVC closed out its non-league action by posting a 64-55 win Tuesday night over Cabrillo College.

Mickey Toner, as usual, was hotter than a firecracker, swishing the net for 25 points, 17 of them in the second half. He also grabbed 12 of the Vikings' 51 rebounds.

Rex Bankhead was the only other Viking to hit in the double figures, scoring 12 points.

High scorers for Cabrillo College were Andy Pavley, 16, and John Edgar, 15.

The Vikings were never once overtaken during the game.

Last weekend, Diablo Valley College split a pair with Monterey Peninsula College, losing Friday night's tilt, 55-33, but coming back to form the following night to take a commanding win, 50-44.

Cage Roundup . . . .

Miramonte Loses Thriller As FAL Opens League Play

Miramonte's six-game winning streak came to an end last Friday night when the Matadors were topped by Piedmont in a thriller, 45-44, in opening games for both teams in the Foothill Athletic League.

Tom Hart was the Scots' hero in the overtime action. He was fouled in the process of making a lay-up, and then made the free throw for the winning margin.

Two other games were also on tap last Friday. Las Lomas had to come from behind to nail Del Valle 38-34, while Acalanes had a much easier time, waltzing away from Alhambra, 60-51.

Prior to squaring off against Piedmont, Miramonte had included the Redwood Empire Invitational basketball title among its six wins.

UP TO FIVE seconds of regular play, the Mats were behind by two points. Then Bruce Nickerson stepped to the foul line and made good on his two free throws, knotting the score at 42-all.

Tom Stewart of Piedmont was the game's high point man with 16, while teammate Bob Wolfe added 11. Nickerson and Eric Unruh led the Matadors with 10 points each.

The Las Lomas Knights trailed Del Valle at half-time, 21-16, but applied the pressure in the second half. At the end of the third quarter they were only two points away from the lead, and then in the fourth, finished strongly.

Steve Miles was the Knights' high-point man with 14.

Alhambra's Mike Sharrock staged a one-man show, sending the ball through the hoop for a total of 24 points, but it wasn't near enough as the Acalanes Dons won the tile easily enough, 60-51. The Dons were never headed as they quickly jumped into an eight-point lead.

Ken MacNamara followed Sharrock with 18 for the losers, but Acalanes' Doug Sanderson tallied 20 and teammate Bart Rocha followed with 16.

Also, last Friday night, Pleasant Hill made it a close one with host Oakland before finally losing out, 47-43.

Bruce Roberts of the winners led all scores with 22 points.

Crunch! Suburban Scores 81-33 Win

The Suburban Bible Church Crusaders strengthened their hold on first place in the YMCA's Church League basketball standings with an overwhelming 81-33 win over Hillcrest Congregational.

The Crusaders, last year's league champions, displayed exceptional passing and rebounding in their big point spread over their opponents.

High point men for the Crusaders were Jon Samman, 16; Russ Hanfelt, 14; Steve Kosach, 12; Pete Schneider, 13, and Pat Little, 11. Steve Pleau made almost half of Hillcrest's points with 16.

Other scores in the church league group were Christ The King over Hillside Covenant, 40-34; Clayton Valley Presbyterian over First Baptist of Martinez, 29-23; and Walnut Creek Methodist over Suburban Bible Church Knights, 32-30. The loss was the first for the Knights, but still left them tied for second place with Walnut Creek Methodist and Hillside Covenant.

Winners of games in the group's B league were Hillside Covenant Church over Suburban Bible Church, 33-32; Youth For Christ, over St. Luke's Lutheran, 36-27; and Good Shepherd Lutheran defeated Christ The King, 30-25:

Monument Bowl Play

Diablo Sport Center and Navlet's Nursery are tied for first place in the Pin Pals League at Monument Bowl. High series was rolled by Char Ambrosoli of Navlet's, 171-188-168-527, followed by Ada Hester of Diablo Sports with 165-155-192-512.

League standings are:

A LEAGUE	W	L
Suburban Bible Church Crusaders	3	0
Suburban Bible Church Knights	3	1
Walnut Creek Methodist	2	1
Hillside Covenant	2	1
Clayton Val. Prebyterian	1	2
Christ The King, Pl Hill	1	2
First Baptist, Martinez	0	1
Hillcrest Congregational	0	3
B LEAGUE
St. Luke's Lutheran, W.C.	2	1
Good Shepherd Lutheran, Concord	2	1
Suburban Bible Church, Lafayette	1	2

Acalanes Wins, 39-36, As Frosh Score Heavily

Steve Seely and Jim Tucker collected 24 points between them as the Acalanes Frosh punched across a close 39-36 victory over Alhambra last Friday.

Late in the contest Alhambra came within a point of tying the contest but a bucket by Bob Walgren gave the Lafayette quintet its margin of victory.

In the fourth quarter Alhambra failed to overcome Acalanes as their hoopsters missed six of eight charity tosses.

Seely had 13 points and Tucker 1, while Bill Boyd was high for Alhambra with 11.

In another Frosh game last Friday, San Ramon scored a smashing win over Campolindo, 42-27. Dave Huff, 6-5, snatched 15 rebounds for the victors.

Mats Rout Dons; Scots Win Again

Tuesday's basketball tilts marked the second bit of league action for several FAL teams, with the Piedmont Highlanders scoring another win, this time 47-35 over the Las Lomas Knights.

Other results that afternoon were an Acalanes loss to Miramonte, 41-33 and a Del Valle victory over San Ramon, 52-41.

Piedmont 47, Las Lomas 35

Despite the final edge, Las Lomas managed to pull up to a 33-33 tie in the fourth quarter and might have forged ahead when, on two different occasions, the Knights stole the ball. But each time the ball missed the bucket.

Bob Wolfe and Tom Stewart of the Scots topped all scorers with 19 and 15 points, respectively.

Rich Bovo had 14 points for the Knights, followed by Rick Leach.

Miramonte 41, Acalanes 33

The tilt was all Acalanes during the first half, with the Matadors steamrolling ahead in the second. Time after time the Dons failed to sink any baskets.

In fact, only one of them, Bill Higgins could account for 12 points while Miramonte's two top hoopsters, Steve Thamen and Eric Unruh, hit the double figures. Thamen had 11 and Unruh 10.

Del Valle 52, San Ramon 41

This game might be labeled "the rat race." Each team was pressing so hard that a total of 65 fouls were called in the four quarters.

San Ramon Coach Larry DeRushia expressed some disgust when he said, "We let the Trojans go to the foul line 45 times." The Trojans made 40 per cent of their free shots. On the other hand, his boys could make good only 28 per cent of 20 fouls called against Del Valle.

The action was so furious that four members of the Wolves fouled out. "The only good thing about the game was that we out-rebounded them, 27-24," DeRushia said.

San Ramon held the lead only for the first quarter.

Contra Costa

Two narrow squeakers featured opening play by the two local teams in the Diablo Valley-Contra Costa Division.

On a last moment shot, College Park barely edged Pittsburg, 46-45. However, Pleasant Hill which had commenced league play with a 6-2 record, lost out to Clayton Valley, also by one point, 49-48.

College Park 46, Pittsburg 45

Roger Mower was the hero of the College Park win.

With only seconds left, he was fouled on an attempted lay-up and made good his free throw.

College Park had led throughout most of the game but within three minutes of the end, the Pirates, last year's champs, caught up.

The score was 45-45 when Mower made the winning point. Bob Roberts was the second high scorer for the Falcons with 10 points.

Clayton Vly. 49, Pleasant Hill 48

Last year the Rams finished dead last in the DVAL's Contra Costa Division, but this year they not only compiled a 6-2 record but also won the Mid-Valley Classic tournament.

Tuesday's game featured a see-saw tilt, with one team never more than five points ahead of the other.

The bigger, taller Clayton Valley quintet was able to walk to the free throw line 24 times and sink 10 of the shots. The Rams could make only six free throws good.

COLLEGE PARK (46)
Thompson, 1-0-2; Martinelli, 3-2-8; Hanson, 1-5-7; Roberts, 3-4-10; Mower, 3-13-19.

PLEASANT HILL (48)
Kimball, 7-0-14; Perry, 3-0-6; Girsch, 0-0-0; Hayes, 2-2-6; Hale, 4-1-9; Dawkins, 5-3-13.

MIRAMONTE'S center, Eric Unruh goes high in the air to get off a shot in last Friday's FAL contest against Piedmont. The shot was no good, but Unruh collected two free throws when he was pushed by the partially hidden Scot who was guarding Unruh. Bruce Nickerson of Miramonte anxiously watches Unruh's play. FAL Teams Chasing Piedmont

League Leading Scots Get Bye; Others Play

Never count the champion out until he's down.

With only two games played so far in the FAL, Piedmont—last year's title-holders—is right at the top of the league standings with two wins.

The Highlanders enjoy a bye tonight, but the action will be hot and heavy in other parts of the league.

ACALANES, hoping to stay alive in the race at this early date, travels to Moraga tonight for a regular appearance on the Campolindo court where they will take on the San Ramon Wolves.

The Dons looked impressive in non-league action and had no trouble in scoring an easy win over Alhambra last Friday.

Miramonte, also with a 1-1 record, hosts Del Valle while the Las Lomas Knights might find things a little easier since Alhambra, expected to be the league's weak sister, visits their court.

THE KNIGHTS had a poor 3-6 record before league action got under way but one of their accomplishments so far has been an upset win over Del Valle. The Trojans had gone into this game by knocking over six opponents while losing only one.

Next Tuesday, Piedmont should make it 3-0 when the Scots take on Alhambra. The non-loss record, however, might be in jeopardy because, next Friday, Piedmont must tangle with San Ramon.

The Wolves finished a strong second in the league last year, 9-3, and are expected to do as well this year, if not better, because of the return of many excellent veterans. Last Tuesday San Ramon couldn't cope with Del Valle and went down to a smarting defeat.

An interesting game next Tuesday will revolve around Acalanes and Del Valle, at the latter's court. Another league game sends San Ramon to Las Lomas.

CONTRA COSTA Division games of interest to local fans tonight will find Pleasant Hill at Mt. Diablo with College Park hosting Antioch. The Rams defeated Mt. Diablo in the finals of the Mid-Valley Classic and the Red Devils will be seeking revenge.

Pleasant Hill was a one point loser to Clayton Valley in openers for both teams last Tuesday.

Next week, Tuesday, the Rams will face Pittsburg, the league's defending champions. Pleasant Hills non-league record shows that the Rams certainly are a much better team this season than the weak 2-10 mark they recorded last year.

College Park, starting its third year of varsity play, hosts Antioch tonight, which team was fortunate to score a four-point victory margin over Ygnacio Valley last Tuesday. But the Falcons aren't any slouches, either. Last Tuesday they knocked over Pittsburg, which is a good way to start any league season.

Both College Park and Pleasant Hill are rated highly in this season's Contra Costa Division race and either could walk away with the title.

A win tonight for College Park and a victory next Tuesday over the league's new entry, Ignacio Valley, would place the Falcons in an ideal spot in the league race.

Acalanes JVs Open With Win

The Acalanes junior varsity courtmen scored their first league victory of the season last Friday with a resounding 34-25 thumping of Alhambra.

At halftime, the Lafayette players had at 21-9 lead and by the end of the third period they had increased it to 31-14.

Lee Newell of Acalanes bagged 11 points, seven of them coming from the free-throw line.

In other games last week, Del Valle took the measure of Las Lomas, 44-41; Miramonte defeated Piedmont, 36-31; Pleasant Hill suffered a 22-17 loss against Oakland, and in the closest game, San Ramon's junior varsity won, 47-46 over visiting Antioch in the last 16 seconds.

Foreign Trip Awaits 3 Lafayette Golfers

Three Lafayette golfers are eligible for a trip to Scotland in the national Old Smuggler Hole-in-One Sweepstakes.

They are Reinhardt Blaschek of 3278 Helen Lane; Robert Cartmill of 3402 Royax Drive, and Bernie Hendricks of 1985 Reliez Valley Road. All scored their qualifying aces at the Walnut Hills Country Club.

The winner's name will be announced shortly.

Pleasant Hill JVs

The Pleasant Hill JV team rolled to a 47-38 comeback victory over Clayton Valley Tuesday afternoon.

The Rams were led by Denton Rogers with 12 points. Bob Fabian and Tim Conger added 11.

Hi Sierra Ski Trip Planned By Moraga Club

The Campolindo Ski Club of the new Campolindo High School in Moraga will have its first Ski Week-end February 8, 9, 10, at Squaw Valley.

Thirty-two freshmen students accompanied by parents and teachers will make the trip by bus. Special features of the trip include seeing the Kingston Trio, a slalom race for the advanced skiers, and a trip to Alpine Meadows on Sunday.

Mark Marshall is trip co-ordinator and Steve Clark is president of the club. Reservations may be made by calling 254-0377 before January 17.

CAREER PLANNING—Acalanes High School counselor Robert Wicks, left, and students Shelly Merner and Jean McIntyre review requirements for the nursing profession with R.N. Grads-To-Be Plan For Outside World

Helping students (and parents) think about the answer to the question "After high school—what?" is an important project in local high schools.

The secondary schools of the Acalanes Union High School District (Acalanes, Campolindo, Del Valle, Las Lomas, and Miramonte) are carrying on a four-year project with each student to help him better analyze his vocational potential and make decisions about his future.

Special exploratory programs in vocational interests and the services of the counseling and guidance departments of the high schools are coordinated in a "continuous effort to help students explore vocational opportunities and higher educational programs suited to their ability and interest," according to Merrill Callow, chief counselor at Las Lomas High School.

VOCATIONAL exploration activity in the Acalanes District high schools includes:

Panels on major occupation areas which give students several chances each year that they are in high school to learn more about vocations that interest them;

Work-experience programs that give students an opportunity to attend school and work part time during the year in on-the-job training that is correlated with their school studies;

Detailed discussions of vocational and higher education possibilities in several courses which are part of the regular school curriculum;

Test scores and aptitude profiles taken periodically while the student is in high school;

AVAILABILITY through school counseling offices of a wide range of catalogs on post-high school education institutions and literature on specific and general vocational opportunities;

Special summer career exploration programs for students who wish to work in a particular vocation and get a first-hand insight into the demands of the job.

In addition to Merrill Callow at Las Lomas, head counselors at each of the district high schools — Kenneth Bailey, Acalanes; Joe Anthony, Del Valle; James Nelson, Campolindo; and Lloyd Hunt, Miramonte — are jointly and separately planning and sponsoring vocational investigative activities for the district and their own schools.

The program is coordinated at the district level by Dr. Robert Wendorf, district director of counseling and guidance services.

Orindan Displays Art Work

Paintings of Gloria Brown, San Francisco artist, will be on display at the Saint Mary's College library through January 29.

The artist has exhibited her paintings in the San Francisco Art Association Annuals, Lucienne Labaudt Gallery, Bolles Gallery, Gallery of Fine Arts of San Francisco, the Art League of Long Island, New York and the Uptown Gallery, New Orleans.

She received first prize, the Vera Adams Davis Memorial, of the San Francisco Women's Artists annual exhibit in the San Francisco Museum of Art in December.

A recent painting has been accepted by the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C., for its 28th Biennial Exhibit of Contemporary American Painting, 1962.

The artist resides in Orinda.

The library hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m on Sundays.

University Women Will Hear Winter

The Walnut Creek branch of the American Association of University Women has invited William Winter, noted news analyst to address members and husbands at a dinner meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at Kellogg's Steak House.

A widely-traveled war correspondent, Winter analyzes the news on ABC radio daily and on KGO-TV, channel 7, in San Francisco several times weekly.

Trained as a courtroom lawyer, a profession which he followed for 12 years in North Carolina and New York, developed a keen analytical mind, which has aided in making his 25 years as news analyst a success, according to Mrs. R. Grover, publicity chairman.

He is also the editor of "William Winter Comments," a publication of observations on the events of the week.

AAUW members will hear him speak on "The World in Crisis" with special emphasis on the situation in South America.

The dinner meeting with husbands is an annual AAUW event.

Due to the limited seating capacity, members are urged to make their reservations early through the telephone committee headed by Mrs. Duane Allen of Pleasant Hill. Reservations not canceled before tomorrow must be honored.

Marchus' Head Heart Drive

The 1963 heart fund drive is a family affair for the Floyd Marchus' of Walnut Creek.

Dr. Floyd Marchus, county superintendent of schools, will serve his third year as heart fund chairman for the Contra Costa County Heart Association. His wife, Helen, assumes the responsibility of Heart Sunday chairman for the county-wide residential drive scheduled for February 24 through March 3.

Both the Marchus' are members of the board of diretcors of the local heart association and have participated in the annual fund-raising event for the past five years.

Starting in 1959 as a volunteer neighborhood solicitor, Mrs. Marchus then served two years as Heart Sunday captain in Walnut Creek. In the 1961 and 1962 campaigns, Helen Marchus accepted the post of Walnut Creek chairman, working with more than 400 volunteers on the Heart Sunday effort.

AS COUNTY Heart Sunday chairman, Mrs. Marchus will appoint local leaders throughout the county and will coordinate the drive.

The chairman announced a departure from the traditional one-day intensive Heart Sunday drive to a week-long campaign. The move was made, Mrs. Marchus explained, by all Bay Area Heart Association chapters to allow volunteers additional time to contact all residents.

"In previous years many families were away from home on Heart Sunday and, therefore, were missed by the heart fund workers. This year we plan more complete coverage by extending the campaign to a full week to allow volunteers to call back when residents are gone," she explained.

"THE HEART diseases take their toll among people in the prime of life, in their most productive years," he said. "It is good insurance for all of us to invest in the heart fund in an effort to reduce deaths by speeding up research, education and services to heart patients."

"Research," Dr. Marchus added, "plays an important role in the heart association's program. Since 1948, more than 75 million heart fund research dollars have contributed to the great progress made in saving hearts through new methods of diagnosis and treatment. Additionally, heart fund dollars support broad programs of public and professional education and community services.'

The Marchus' are long-time Walnut Creek residents and live at 1271 Juanita Drive. A daughter Darlene, 21, and son Jay, 12, share the family home.

Camping is the favorite vacation pastime of the family and vacations usually find them on a camping trip to Missoula, Montana, their former residence. Last summer Dr. Marchus added teaching duties at the University of Montana to the summer schedule.

Helen Marchus works actively in the Walnut Creek Methodist Church where she was recently appointed head of the primary department of the Sunday school. Dr. Marchus is a member of the Kiwanis Club.

LEADING HEART FUND drive in Contra Costa County are Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Marchus. Dr. Marchus is County School Superintendent.

JC Board Will Meet

The next regular meeting of the governord board of the Contra Costa Junior College District will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The board will meet in the board room of the District Office, 517 Court Street, Martinez.

U.S. Names Muir House National Site

John Muir House, famed county historic site near Martinez, is one of five sites in the state designated as Registered National Historic Landmarks.

According to Senator Clair Engle, the sites were selected by the Department of Interior. Selection does not mean that the sites will be purchased by the government, Engle pointed out.

The John Muir House, former home of the nature writer, explorer and conservationist, is located on five acres of his 800-acre ranch. Muir settled on the ranch in 1880 when he was 42, and did much of his writing there.

Privately owned, the site contains both of two houses which the naturalist lived in for periods of 10 and 14 years.

Health Expert, Social Workers Will Be Hired

Applications for positions as medical social worker and public health engineer are now being accepted by Contra Costa County.

Application deadlines for the two positions are today and January 25, respectively. Tests will be given on January 26 and February 9.

Medical social workers are employed by the county hospital and the county social service department. An opening now exists at the county hospital in the rehabilitation services program.

In order to be considered for this vacancy candidates must have completed two years of graduate training leading to a master's degree in a graduate school of social work approved by the Council of Social Work Education.

HOWEVER, additional vacancies occurring in the next two years in the social service department may be filled from the employment list established by this examination.

The medical social worker in the county hospital will report to the director of rehabilitation services.

He will be responsible for providing rehabilitation assistance to patients under public medical care programs, planning for the patient's release with a maximum of self-dependency, and assisting the patient in adjusting to his medical program while in the hospital.

The medical social worker in the county social service department serves as a member of a review team evaluating the adequacy of medical social care plans for patients, participates in the department's in-service training programs, provides medical social work consultation to staff, and works with community health and welfare agencies.

THE PUBLIC health engineer will plan, develop, coordinate and evaluate the environmental health programs in Contra Costa County.

Youth Orchestra Invited On Japan Concert Tour

The California Youth Symphony Orchestra accepted an invitation from the Asahi Shimbun Press of Tokyo to perform in concert on tour throughout Japan in the summer of 1963.

The invitation was extended to the California Youth Symphony Orchestra following a visit by members of the Cultural Commission of Japan who were touring the United States as guests of the U.S. State Department.

So impressed were they with the exceptional quality of the musicianship of the orchestra that they said this was a side of American student life and achievement they would want the Japanese people to see and appreciate.

The California Youth Symphony Orchestra, trained and conducted by Aaron Sten since its beginning in 1952, has a membership of 104 young musicians ranging in age from 11 through 18 who attend 30 different junior and senior high schools in 20 separate communities around the San Francisco Bay Area.

In reference to the purpose of the tour, Toshio Kanchi, project director for the Asahi Shimbun Press, said, "If your tour succeeds in establishing children-to-children personal friendship both in the homes and on the stages, your tour will not only inspire other smaller cities to organize their own junior orchestras . . . but also will make the best cultural exchange program between the United States and Japan that has ever been thought about."

Graphic Art Collections On Display at Museum

Graphic arts are spotlighted this month by the San Francisco Museum of Art, Veterans' Building, Civic Center, in two outstanding exhibitions: "100 Prints from the Grunwald Graphic Arts Foundation, University of California at Los Angeles" and "Prints by Vera Berdich."

The Grunwald Collection, on display until February 3, includes an outstanding selection of etching, both black and white and color lithography, aquatint, drypoint and watercolor by many of the most famous artists of our time.

Among those represented are Max Beckmann, Pierre Bonnard, George Braque, Paul Cezanne, Edgar Degas, Lyonel Feininger, Paul Gaugin, Wassily Kandinsky, Paul Klee, Henry Matisse, Edvard Munch, Emil Nolde, Pablo Picasso, Auguste Renoir and Jacques Villon.

THE PRIVATE collection of Fred Grunwald, which he started during the early 1900s in Germany, is now established as the Grunwald Graphic Arts Foundation.

Much of the collection was confiscated by the nazis in 1933, but Grunwald began collecting again after he had established himself in the United States.

Prints by Vera Berdich will be exhibited from Tuesday to February 15. She has been called "one of two top graphic artists of this country."

On internationally known artist and teacher of printmaking for 15 years at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, she has received many awards and grants.

Gallery hours are Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m. The museum is closed each Monday.

B'ley Social Security Office In New Home

The Berkeley Social Security office has moved to new quarters at 1950 University Avenue, one block away from its former location on Addison Street.

Explaining the move, Morgan J. Shea, district manager, said that the larger space will provide better service for the increasing number of beneficiaries in Berkeley, Albany, and Contra Costa County, which makes up the service area of the office.

"Since the Berkeley Social Security office opened in October, 1954, its beneficiaries have increased nearly 200 per cent," Shea pointed out.

Because of the liberalized retirement test now in the law, Shea recommends that persons with in three months of retirement visit the office to discuss ley offifce - eligibility for benefits. The Berkeley office is open from 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Driver's Delight: Gas Taxes Can Be Deducted

Some car expenses are deductible on your income tax returns even if the car is never used for business purposes, according to the California State Automobile Association.

The major item for most motorists who itemize their deductions is the state gasoline tax of six cents per gallon.

The amount of gasoline used can be determined by dividing the total number of miles the car has traveled during the past year by the number of miles it gets per gallon.

GASOLINE MILEAGE varies considerably, but the average for all cars is about 14 miles per gallon, says the CSAA, and the average motorist drives about 10,000 miles per year. Compact and foreign cars, of course, average more than 14 miles per gallon.

The Federal gasoline tax, currently four cents a gallon, is not deductible.

Other items that are deductible are registration fees and interest paid on cars that are financed.

LOSSES FROM FIRE, accident, storm or theft are deductible to the extent they are not covered by insurance and when the accident did not result from the taxpayer's willful act of negligence. Drunken driving, for example, is construed as a willful act of negligence, while mere faulty driving is not.

Other deductions are allowable when the car is used wholly or partly for business purposes. Driving back and forth to work is considered a personal rather than a business expense and is not allowable.

ACROSS AN ORIENT BAY you ride as morning fog lifts from the waters. This is only one of the adventures you may have on The Sun Orient Tour in April on which every day is an adventure. Call The Sun or your travel agent now for more information about this deluxe tour at economy prices.

Broadway Sends You to Orient

Two lucky shoppers at Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek, will join the Sun Orient Holiday tour next April 18, courtesy of Broadway.

The combined travel prize of two 20-day deluxe tours through major cities, shrines and scenic locales in the Far East, represents a dollar value of over $2800.

"No purchase is necessary," said Carl Putz of J. C. Penney's, member of the Broadway Merchants Association executive committee. Just clip out the coupon appearing on the front page of this section of The Sun, and deposit it at any store in Broadway.

"THE SUBSEQUENT drawing and grand prize is for friends of Broadway, old and new, and we know that two of these lucky people will have a delightful trip," Putz said.

The winners may take the trip themselves, or, if unable to do so, may designate anyone else for the two 20-day holidays. According to contest rules, however, no cash substitution or alternate trip may be offered.

The lucky winners will join other Sun Orient holidayers from the area and will be entitled to precisely the same deluxe transportation, accommodations and special services offered by The Sun Publishing Company.

AS MANY coupons as you wish may be deposited for the drawing. Other coupons are available throughout the Broadway Shopping Center.

"Broadway was shopping around for an outstanding gift we could make available to our friends in Contra Costa—a gift in addition to the year 'round gift of quality merchandise at quantity prices and many other special Broadway offers," Putz explained.

"We feel that The Sun Orient Tour is such a gift, one that will be appreciated by any lucky two persons in the area," he said.

The 20-day tour, with jet transportation to the Orient by BOAC and accommodations in the best of hotels, begins April 18. The lucky winners will spend "cherry-blossom time" in Japan and Hong Kong.

The varied schedule, liberally laced with free time in addition to planned visits to tourist attractions, includes stops at Tokyo, Nikko, Miyanoshita, Atami, Kyoto, Nara, Osaka and Hong Kong.

Highland Bldg. New Quarters Of United Fund

Walnut Creek offices of Contra Costa County Unified Fund and offices of two United Crusade agencies—Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County and Contra Costa Mental Health Association—are moving to the Highland Building, 2363 Boulevard Circle.

Completing a five-year lease at 2030 N. Main Street, United Crusade and Mental Health will move January 15; Volunteer Bureau will reopen in the Highland Building, Wednesday, January 2.

Edward G. Romley of Romley Construction Company, owner of the 2030 N. Main Street building, said the Crusade and agency quarters will be rented as general offices.

Broadway Golden Arrow Days Begin Bargain Year

Golden arrows will point to top January values in Broadway through Saturday, according to Matt Howard, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The fifth annual Golden Arrow Days combines a new year kick-off with traditional after-Christmas bargains, Howard explained. Shoppers throughout the county have come to recognizes the familiar golden arrow as a sign of the best at low clearance prices," he said.

With all of Broadway Shopping Center's many and various merchants participating in the well-known event, discriminating shoppers will have a field day selecting what they need and want from Broadway bargains, Howard predicted.

"There may have been certain items which you had your eyes on during the holidays, but decided the holiday budget wouldn't allow it. Those items are frequently featured during Golden Arrow Days, and at big savings," Howard added.

Started in 1958, the special event has rapidly become one of Broadway's major annual promotions, the chairman pointed out.

"Each year it becomes more popular, and the more popular it becomes the greater variety of merchandise we can offer at spectacularly low prices," he said.

"We are anticipating a greater number of shoppers this year than last year, and intend to show old and new shoppers alike, just a sample of what they can expect from Broadway during 1963," the chairman added.

"This is only the beginning of several special promotions we will have throughout the year. But merchants here, promise me it will be the best 'beginning' in Broadway history," he said.

New Approach to Train Handicapped Studied

A new approach in guiding physically handicapped children toward independent adulthood is now being studied by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County.

One aspect of the study involves group discussion meetings fro parents of multiple handicapped children, which will start this month at Contra Costa County Easter Seal headquarters, 240 South Sixth Street, Richmond.

Mrs. Ardis Loonie, executive director of the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County, said that the purpose of the meetings is to assist parents in determining the times and circumstances which warrant that the handicapped child make decisions for himself.

Mrs. Loonie said that the group sessions for parents are an adjunct to weekly group counselling sessions for six cerebral young adults, 16 years of age and over, at the Vocational Rehabilitation Workshop.

The young persons are engaging in self assessment discussions, which involve planning for time utilization in adulthood.

Proposed County Child Institute Discussions Start

An initial meeting on the proposed Children's Institute and Training Center for Contra Costa was this week among mental health leaders, parent group representatives, county medical directors and Department of Mental Hygiene representatives.

The meeting was the follow-up of the announcement by Dr. Daniel Blain, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene that Contra Costa was one of four counties considered for such a community-based facility.

Dr. George Degnan, county medical director; Max Bogner, county organizer specialist and Dr. Marietta Houston, of the Department of Mental Hygiene, a proposed citizens committee by the Contra Costa County Mental Health Association; and representatives of the Community Mental Health Advisory Board attended the meeting held at the American Red Cross building on Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek.

THE INSTITUTE will offer a community-based alternative to state hospitalization. Facilities call for outpatient clinic facilities for 375 mentally retarded and handicapped children and their families; counseling; training of personnel; diagnostic and evaluation services; treatment, etc.

Inpatient treatment will be primarily for short-term treatment. However, up to 20 per cent of inpatient beds could be used for long-term care.

The proposed citizens committee consists of nine representative groups. They are: Ralph Jarrett, Guidance for Retarded; Terry Haws, immediate past president, Council for Retarded of East Contra Costa County, Inc.; Mrs. T. Wilson, We Care and Cerebral Palsy Society; Francis Burke, Ph.D., County School Department; L. E. Herman, Neurologically Handicapped Society of Contra Costa County; H. L. Blum, M.D., county health officer; Jean E. Neighbor, M.D., professional advisor chairman; Mrs. Estelle Girande, executive director, Contra Costa County Mental Health Association; and Richard Sax, executive director, Council of Community Services.

Members of the advisory board are Mrs. Maxine Johnson of Martinez, secretary; Dr. Charles Brisbin of Pittsburg; Drs. D. E. Wilcox and Howard G. Preece of Walnut Creek; Superior Court Justice Wakefield Taylor of Martinez; and Supervisor Mel Nielsen of Lafayette.

Results of the initial meetings will be reported to the Community Advisory Board on Tuesday at the county hospital.

I am only one, but I am one. I cannot do everything, but I can do something. What I can do, I ought to do. And what I ought to do, by God's grace, I will do.—Anon.

Volunteers Needed for Friendly Visitors Service

One hundred volunteers needed to meet requests for friendly visitors in rest homes, convalescent homes, private homes and county hospital, according to Mrs. William Pitkin, Walnut Creek, recruitment chairman for the Friendly Volunteer Service.

"There are more than 5000 older persons who have health problems which limit their activities," she said. "Nearly 500 aged persons are living in convalescent homes or aged boarding homes, any many more in the county hospital or private homes. Many are lonely, without friends, relatives or visitors, and could use a friendly visitor."

A friendly visitor is a volunteer, man or woman, who visits at least one home-bound lonely, older person each week on a regular basis. Continuity is essential to establish a warm, friendly relationship. This may even be the means of aiding one who may seem almost without hope, but who can be restored.

THE FRIENDLY Visitor Service is a coordinated effort of the Central Contra Costa Council of Churches, Contra Costa County Mental Health Association, American Red Cross, Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter, Contra Costa Council of Community Services, County Social Service Department and the Volunteer Bureau.

Serving on the recruitment committee are: Mrs. Dorothy Spott, Orinda, executive director of the Volunteer Bureau; Mrs. Robert S. Love, Lafayette, representing the Council of Churches; Mrs. Arnold Blackmur, Moraga, Volunteer Bureau, public relations; and Mrs. Jane McClelland, Pleasant Hill, executive director, Friendly Visitor Volunteer Service.

Men or women who have as little as one hour a week to share with someone, are urged to call the Volunteer Bureau today. Volunteer Bureau is located in new quarters, Room 12, Highland Building, 2363 Boulevard Circle, Walnut Creek.

Coasting down grades is an illegal and highly dangerous practice, warns the National Automobile Club.

Broadway Stores Will Remain Open On Three Nights

Stores throughout Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek, are open three nights each week for the convenience of shoppers throughout Contra Costa, according to Matt Howard, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Most stores in the large center remain open until 9 p.m. on Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays.

"We keep these special hours because we know shoppers appreciate them," Howard explained.

"It gives dad a chance to do some shopping he couldn't otherwise work into a busy schedule. And the lady of the house likes an opportunity to get away for an evening's shopping by herself or with a group of friends," the chairman said.

"On the other hand, evenings are usually the only time the whole family can shop together. Students, too, appreciate the extra hours of shopping time Broadway makes available," he added.

New Parking In Broadway Appreciated

Broadway shoppers have found the new off-street parking an immense convenience, Broadway Merchants Association chairman Matt Howard reported this week.

The new lots, located between Main Street and South Broadway over recently-culverted Walnut Creek, provide space for 200 more cars for a total of 2000 in the area.

"We added to literally acres of parking to increase the total number of spaces available, and also to better divide parking facilities," Howard said.

He said that both customers and merchants were appreciative of the efforts of MacDonald Products Company, founders and developers of Broadway, to keep their promise of more parkink by Christmas.

"With our expected increase in customers, we expect the lots will continue to be used to capacity," Howard said.

Money-Lenders Join Realtors For Breakfast

Over 50 representatives of title companies, banks, mortgage companies, savings and loan associations, and program chairmen of the year were guests of honor at the breakfast meeting of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors recently, according to J. N. Smith, president and presiding officer.

Certificates were awarded to Byron Nelson of Orinda; Bob Killian of Concord; Chuck Cheadle, Rudy Mayer and Dave Robertson, of Walnut Creek; Walt Latter, Lee Watkins and Bill Sumerlin, of the Concord-Pleasant Hill area, for their work as program chairmen.

Lafayette Woman Heads Residential Cancer Drive

Mrs. J. J. Van Loben Sels, Jr., of Lafayette has volunteered her services as residential chairman for the April fund drive by the Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society.

In accepting her responsibility as residential chairman, Mrs. Van Loben Sels said she hopes to reach each of Contra Costa's approximately 125,000 homes during April, leaving life-saving cancer education information and gathering funds to push control of this cruel disease.

The chairman said she is now making plans for county-wide coverage and that a local residential chairman for each community will be appointed.

Mrs. Van Loben Sels comes to the county job after serving as Lafayette cancer drive chairman last year, when she established a local record contribution to cancer control.

Prior to this, she trained for three years with the society as a captain in the annual campaign.

For Quick Freeze, Use Right Shelf

Unfrozen food freezes quickest when placed in the center of the freezing shelf of a cold-air freezer. In freezers with cold shelves, the fastest freezing occurs when the food is placed directly on the first, second or fourth shelf. Place the food next to the wall if possible.

Your freezer should help you in food preparation in addition to being used for food storage.

In the creative state a man is taken out of himself.

NEW GYMNASIUM at Campolindo gets a workout from Pete Mica (on top) and Jim Shay as Neisls Waidtlow, physical education instructor, shows how it should be done. Similar to the gym at Del Valle High School, Campolindo's facility has several basketball courts and offers a wide floor expanse for both group athletics and individual activities. Acalanes High School is "breaking in" the main basketball court by playing all its varsity home games on Friday nights at the new school.

Odegard Leads DVC Speakers Panel Agenda

A panel of four speakers has been approved by the governing board of the Contra Costa Junior College District to present a new series of free public lectures at both Contra Costa College in San Pablo and Diablo Valley College at Concord next February and March.

A series of four lectures at each college, entitled "Challenges for Americans," will explore the role of the individual in a democracy.

William J. Kretzmer, board vice-president, described as "outstanding" the speakers selected by a two-campus coordinating committee which is now completing final arrangements.

Coordinators of the series are Mario J. Pezzola, CCC social science instructor, and Lenard Grote, who teaches the same subject at DVC. Grote is the mayor of the newly incorporated city of Pleasant Hill.

In 1961 Pezzola was one of the coordinators of another two-campus series, "Facts on Communism Today," which attracted more than 20,000 persons.

Speakers for the spring series are Dr. Peter H. Odegard, chairman of the political science department of the University of California and former president of Reed College; Dr. Joseph D. Lohman, dean of U.C.'s School of Criminology, one-time sheriff of Cook County, Illinois, and former Illinois state treasurer. Mrs. Catherine Bauer Wurster, professor of city and regional planning at U.C., and Dr. Jacobus tenBroek, head of U.C.'s speech department and chairman of the California State Welfare Board, will also speak.

Dr. Odegard will discuss "The Democratic Process; Dr. Lohman, "Urban and Technological Change"; Mrs. Wurster, "Planning for Metropolitan Growth"; and Dr. tenBroek, "The Individual and Equality."

The lectures will be given February 19, February 26, March 5, and March 12.

Meet the first beginnings; look to the budding mischief before it has time to ripen maturity.

Nurses, Male or Female, Needed by US Air Force

Exciting, rewarding careers await qualified young men and women as Air Force nurses, TSgt. Milton H. Dunham, local Air Force recruiting representative, said this week.

Qualified applicants are commissioned as Air Force reserve officers in a grade commensurate with their age, education and professional experience and enter service in that grade. The minimum tour of active duty is two years.

The Air Force offers almost unlimited opportunities for nurses to gain broad experience and advancement in their specialty. The Air Force offers many educational opportunities, both professional and academic.

Air Force nursing specialties include administration, surgical, psychiatric, flight nursing and anesthetist work. An 18-month anesthetist's course is available for registered nurses.

Nurses enjoy the same pay and privileges as other officers of equal grade including 30 days paid vacation each year and extra pay while performing flight nursing duties.

They also work with the most modern equipment available in a highly professional atmosphere, and have an unexcelled opportunity for free travel in the United States and overseas.

To qualify for an Air Force commission a nurse applicant must be a graduate of a three-year school of nursing acceptable to the surgeon general, have current registration in any state, territory of the U.S. or the District of Columbia, meet physical and professional qualifications, be at least 20 years of age but not over 35, have no dependents under 18 years of age (no restrictions on dependents for male nurses), be a citizen of the U.S. and possess high moral qualifications.

Additional information on the Air Force medical service may be obtained from Sergeant Dunham at 2183 Concord Boulevard, Concord.

Cancer Folder Describes Aid

A new folder entitled "Cancer! Where Can You Turn?" tells in specific terms the kind of help to look for from the American Cancer Society and is available upon request now at the society's Contra Costa Branch, 2180 N. California Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

"The American Cancer Society is many things to many people and is made up of many people—volunteer physicians, businessmen, union leaders, nurses, scientists and housewives, dedicated to one goal: saving lives from cancer," Dr. Jonas Schreider, county president, pointed out today.

For instance, a mother wants to know how to guard herself against cancer of the cervix. A scientist needs funds to support his research on leukemia. A physician must keep up with the fast-developing facts in cancer control.

A businessman wants to protect his employees. A patient needs dressings and weekly transportation to a treatment center.

"All these figures in the fabric of our county's society turn to the cancer society," Dr. Schreider said.

"Whatever your need, call your county society for more information on what it can do for you, and incidentally, what you can do for it."

Gordon's Garden Workshop Will Be at Nursery

"Roses, past, present and future" will be the topic for Gordon Baker Lloyd when he conducts his monthly workshop tomorrow at 8 p.m., at the Orchard Nursery in Lafayette.

The noted garden authority will demonstrate how to prune roses, speak about pest control in regard to roses, their watering, etc.

A new section, "Beginners' Corner" will be started at this meeting. This will be for newcomers to the area who have basic gardening problems.

These monthly meetings are open to the public and refreshments are served.

Pre-finish Wall

For best results it is wise to prefinish wall panels before installing them. A good seal coat plus a coat or two of clear plastic lacquer or varnish is best applied when the boards are flat, and hand sanding is much easier.

There are more than 50,000 Indians in New Mexico, reports the National Automobile Club.

NDEA Loans Available for Local Students

National Defense Education Act student loans are available on all general campuses of the University of California.

Counselors and school administrators are urged to call these loans and the application deadlines to the attention of current or prospective high school and junior college graduates with superior academic records, particularly those who, for economic reasons, have expressed doubt of their ability to continue their educations.

Farm Advisor John Carnill says applicants from high school are eligible if they are accepted for admission as regular students; undergraduates currently enrolled at the university and transfer students should have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5.

Special consideration is given students with a superior academic record majoring in science, mathematics, engineering, or a modern foreign language.

The maximum loan to one individual is $1000 in any one academic year, and no more than $5000 total. Loans must be repaid with three per cent interest over a period of ten years, beginning one year after the recipient ceases to be a full-time student.

Up to 50 per cent of the loan (and the interest thereon) may be canceled at the rate of 10 per cent for each year of full-time teaching in public schools through the 12th grade.

The deadline for filing applications for the academic year 1963-64 is May 1, 1963. Applicants should write to the Supervisor of Special Services, 309 Sproul Hall, University of California, Berkeley 4.

For information you may call Farm Advisor John T. Carnill of the Agricultural Extension Service office in Pittsburg.

Alien Address Reports Must Be Filed Now

Postmaster L. G. Bornholtz of Walnut Creek today advised that the final date for aliens to report their current address is January 31.

The Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 requires each alien who is in the United States on January 1, 1963, to report his current address to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization within the period January 1 through January 31, 1963.

Those required to report are: (a) Aliens residing permanently in the United States; (b) Aliens admitted for temporary periods, as visitors, transients, students, etc.; and (c) Aliens who, through violation of immigration laws, are in the United States illegally.

The address reporting card (Form I-53) is available at the post office and may be obtained at any of the windows.

Penalty for failure to comply with this act, if convicted, can result in fine, imprisonment, or both. Irrespective of whether an alien is convicted or punished, any alien who willfully or inexcusably fails to report his address is liable to be taken into custody and deported, the postmaster advised.

Benefits are For 'Partially Retired' Also

Many people age 65 or over who are still working don't realize that under the law they are "partially retired" and can receive some social security payments.

It is possible to receive social security retirement benefits even if earnings go over $1200 a year, according to Morgan J. Shea, social security district manager in Berkeley.

Shea gave an example of a 65-year-old man and his wife eligible for a $180 monthly social security payment. If the man earns $2500 in a year, he and his wife could receive $1110 in social security payments.

More than a million people over 65 have not yet applied for social security benefits. Many could receive benefits even though they are working. Some of these people are probably living right here in the mid-county area.

Shea suggested that employed persons 65 or over visit or write the Berkeley social security office at 1990 Addison Street to find out whether or not they can receive some social security payments.

Dr. Porter Barrington Will Lead Evangelists

The first inter-denominational evangelistic crusade in mid-county history begins Sunday night at the National Guard Armory in Walnut Creek.

Featured speaker of the crusade is Dr. Porter Barrington, former pastor of the Van Nuys First Baptist Church and evangelistic minister for over 30 years.

The crusade, which will run through January 27, will hold meetings at 7 p.m. Sundays, 7:30 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays.

Appearing at each meeting will be crusade soloist John Webb, a basso profundo seen and heard on television, radio, and the concert and opera stages.

Over 35 churches of various denominations will participate in the crusade, under the leadership of the Rev. Melvin Stone.

Stone heads a "crusade committee" whose members include the Rev. Vernon Kraft, the Rev. Phillip Latero, the Rev. Gray Lambert, the Rev. William Mays, and the Rev. Glen Lambert and Rev. Wayne Zellmer.

Managing finances for the crusade are Cecil Miller and Bill Allison.

The National Guard Armory is located across the creek from the recreation center in Walnut Creek's City Park.

FINGERPRINT

A dozen boards in a panel wall cut from the same log may look alike, but they are as different as people. Each board, for instance, cut from a Douglas fir log has its own fingerprints, a wonderful variety of grain and texture.

The beginning is the most important part of the work.

Looking for A Career?

How to pursue vitally important careers in medical technology is explained in a new brochure now available free from the American Cancer Society's Contra Costa Branch, 2180 N. California Boulevard, in Walnut Creek.

Mrs. John S. Selley, county education chairman for the society, said the new brochure will be valuable to teachers, students, career counselors and to persons already engaged in this field who are interested in furthering their careers.

Entitled "The Profession of Medical Technology," the booklet answers typical questions asked by students exploring career opportunities, such as "What is a medical technologist?" and "Where do they work and what do they do?"

Mrs. Selley said the illustrated brochure also provides information regarding college requirements, technical training, certification and opportunities for specialization in such fields as cytotechnology, research and bacteriology.

"Because laboratories have greatly increased in number during thes last few years, there are not nearly enough technologists to staff them," the cancer society's education chairman pointed out. "This is a comparatively new profession that has come of age since World War II, and those who prepare themselves have unlimited opportunities for jobs."

Commends City Budget Feature

The City of Walnut Creek won nationwide attention for an administrative feature of its budget presentation, it was learned last week.

The October, 1962, issue of "Public Management," a professional journal, commented favorably on City Manager L. A. Kimball's textual explanations of departmental budget requests. A paragraph of the article, "A Review of City Budgets," ran as follows:

"Statements of justification of departmental requests are a frequently occurring items (in city budgets for 1962-63) and provide interesting and informative data to the citizen-reader.

"Textual explanations of the city manager's recommendation for each department is, for example, featured in the budget for Walnut Creek, California."

Group Piano Teaching for Youngsters

Mrs. John Booth, a graduate of London's Royal Academy of Music, is seeking young students to study piano in a group.

Mrs. Booth will start lessons as soon as six youngsters have singed up for the class. The class will have 10 students as a maximum, she said.

More information about the class can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Booth.

Clear Flores for Raiders

Tom Flores of Orinda, who sat out the Oakland Raiders disastrous 1962 football season because of a lung condition, has been cleared by his physician to return to the squad next season.

Flores, quarterback for the team during the 1960 and 1961 seasons, was stricken with bronchiextasis, a lung infection.

During the last campaign — with Flores out of action—the Raiders won only one game while suffering thirteen losses.

Two weeks ago, Flores' physician medically cleared him to return to football and the star quarterback was immediately given a new contract by the Raiders.

Flores, whose throwing motion has been called the smoothest in professional football, said that he will begin an immediate program of exercising to recondition himself for his return to football.

During his rookie year in 1960, the 24-year-old Flores led the American Football League in percentage of completions and in 1961 he finished second in the league's passing statistics.

Foster Home Information Meet Planned

A meeting for parents interested in foster home program will be held Wednesday, 7 p.m., in the conference room of the Concord Library, 2900 Salvio, Concord.

The 60 families who have contacted the probation department concerning this program have been invited.

John A. Davis, county probation officer, will be present. An informal panel with Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, Concord, senior deputy probation officer in charge of recruitment, a representative from the county social service department and foster parents who have been active in this program, will speak.

Questions such as: Who are the children in need of foster parents today? Are foster parents reimbursed for care? How long do these children stay in foster homes? will be answered at the meeting.

A question asked by a little girl of a social worker recently was "Are you the lady who is going to find a home for us?" Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, appointed six weeks ago as recruitment officer for the probation department, is endeavoring to do just this for the many children of all ages needing substitute homes.

"However, this question could be addressed to all the people in Contra Costa County because this child and all the others—waiting for foster homes are our children," says Mrs. Robert S. Love, Lafayette, a foster mother and a member of the Foster Home Information Committee.

Further information on the foster home program may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, county probation office, Martinez.

Planners Assn. '63 President

Anthony A. Dehaesus, county planning department, has been elected president of the City-County Planners Association of Contra Costa County.

The association, Dehaesus explained, is an organization of professional planning personnel, and others engaged in responsible planning activity, of agencies and jurisdictions within the county.

Renewal Fees Due for Autos, Motorcycles

Renewal statements for 1963 are in the mail to California's seven million registered automobile owners, announced Tom Bright, director of motor vehicles.

Statements show the amount of fees due for 1963 registration and, when stamped paid, will become the registration certificate for the coming year.

Renewal fees for automobiles and motorcycles were due on Wednesday, and can be paid without penalty up to and including Monday, February 4. Renewal on commercial vehicles, trucks and trailers started December 3.

Capwell's Plans Knitting Class

Mrs. Helen Lynch, Capwell's Walnut Creek knitting instructor, will conduct a series of classes on basic steps in knitting.

Classes will be held on consecutive Wednesday mornings, beginning January 23 and continuing through February 27, from 10:00 to 11:30 a.m.

There is no charge for the series which will be held in the training rooms on the second floor.

Classes will be limited to 50 people due to space limitations. Registrations will be taken in the Art Needlework Department or by telephone.

RATING THE MOVIES

Ed Note: The reviews in this column provide moviegoers with a guide to the selection of entertainment films in current release. They present the opinion of the groups which make up "The Film Estimate Board of National Organizations."

Representatives from 10 well-known organizations — including American Jewish Committee, National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Protestant Motion Picture Council—are included on the board.

Classifications are: A—Adults; MY—Mature Young People; Y—Young People; F—Family; C—Children (unaccompanied by adults).

An asterisk indicates an outstanding film of its type.

Ten Complete Freedom Course

Three members of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors, six members of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce, and one other have completed the "Freedom vs. Communism—The Economics of Survival" course, sponsored by the board and chamber.

Graduates are: John H. Kepler, Keith Kepler, Fred Vann, Frank Margrave, Phil Gustafson, L. Bradford, Lee Scarlett, Eugene Proulx, Tom Garrison and Bob Carlquist.

The eight-week course, the first of its kind in this area, is designed to acquaint public citizens with the contrasts and conflicts between a free democratic society and an arbitrarily controlled socialistic regime.

Non-partisan in nature, the course gave participants an opportunity to make an informed and objective appraisal of the communist challenge, according to Bob Carlquist, of Bailey & Ingalls, Walnut Creek. Carlquist served as moderator and discussion leader. Other classes are planned for the New Year, he said.

Spray and Prune In Your Garden Now Till March

During winter months—from mid December until March — spraying and pruning are two of the gardener's more important activities, especially with dormant trees and shrubs. This is most important for deciduous fruit trees such as peaches, apples, pears and apricots. But it applies generally to ornamental gardening also, especially in regards to spraying.

The idea behind winter spraying is that there are many insects and fungus spores which are overwintering—in the egg stage as well as in the adult stage. Four of the primary targets in this respect are scale, spider mites, aphids and mealy bugs. The fungus which causes leaf curl on peaches is another winter target, as are the overwintering fungus spores of mildew and rust which infected our roses last year.

BY HITTING these bothersome pests when trees and shrubs are dormant—i.e. leafless — the gardener can make great strides toward controlling them if not actually knocking them altogether. For being leafless, the plant material is not harmed by stronger-then-normal concentrations of spray, and the stronger the spray, the more effective it is against insects and fungus.

Evergreen material will benefit by spraying, too. But more dilute solutions will be needed or the plants themselves may be harmed. Even at dilute strength, however, headway is made in the battle of the bugs and chances for infestation next spring or summer are greatly decreased.

You can check with a member of the California Association of Nurserymen about the most effective sprays for dormant use. The most widely used for insect control are the oil sprays, which form a coating over insects and their eggs, suffocating them.

This is usually mixed with a fungicide of the lime-sulphur type to control fungus at the same time. Don't guess at the mixtures you use, nor at the type of plant you use this combination on. Ask your C.A.N. nurseryman and also read the label directions before spraying to refresh your memory. Needless to say, choose a windless day to spray and avoid contact with the spray itself.

AS FOR PRUNING, we prune in winter to control the growth and fruit production of orchard trees or to control growth and bloom on certain ornamental shrubs, such as roses and fuchsias, which bear their blooms on the new growth which will be made next spring and summer. On spring-blooming shrubs such as lilac, weigela and various others, pruning must wait until after bloom. These bloom on last year's wood and pruning now will only rob you of color when spring arrives.

There is no more important action affecting the health and cropping ability of fruit trees and grapes than pruning. The gardener is strongly urged not to set about this job in a haphazard manner, but first to read about what he is doing. In this respect, C.A.N. members can show you pamphlets and books on the subject of pruning, which will save you both time and the possibility of error.

IN THE ROSE GARDEN, instructions are somewhat easier to give in limited space. Remember that the idea is to renew the bush and to encourage new bloom-carrying growth. You can cut back one-third to one-half of a rose, keeping an eye to the shaping of the bush as you do it.

Try to encourage at least one, well-placed new cane which came up from the base last year and to cut out one old one entirely. This is sometimes not possible.

Rosarian Will Have Busy Month

As the new year gets underway, so too, does the rosarian's calendar of activities. For January is not only the month of pruning old roses, but the busiest month for planting new ones.

Before rushing out and buying the first roses you see advertised, however, read the following advice from the California Association of Nurserymen about selecting and planting bareroot rose bushes. It is easy to do the wrong thing in this respect, but just as easy to be right, so why take a chance?

THE MOST important step comes in the selection of healthy bareroot stock. It's not really hard to tell the good from the bad, and any CAN member will be happy to explain the differences in person to you. Basically you want to determine if the prospective purchase seems well informed with at least three strong and plump canes. Beware the shriveled looking rose bush or that with weak looking canes. It is not enough to have one good cane if the others are less than that.

Roses are graded No. 1, No. 1½, and No. 2, with No. 1 being the best. No. 2 grade is discarded by most reputable rose growers. Both No. 1 and 1½ grades should give very good results. The thing to watch out for is the "bargain" rose . . . especially if it is sold without a variety name and just referred to as "pink," "yellow," etc.

ANOTHER THING to remember about rose buying is that the new All-America Rose winners Tropicana and Royal Highness this year are hard to get. These are the roses everybody wants and supply usually doesn't meet the demand, so buy yours early.

There are dozens of yesterday's favorites, however. Novice rosarians will certainly want to look at some of these.

New Roses to Brighten 1963

Growing roses is one of the most rewarding phases of garden life.

Not only do you have countless old varieties to gladden your heart through the years, but each new season brings with it still more new roses to keep your interest up.

Now on the eve of another bareroot season — the busiest planting season for rosarians—comes another list of new roses. And if past experience proves anything at all, you had best visit a California Association of Nurserymen member at your earliest convenience and order what you will.

It's a good bet that the best of our new rose varieties will have been sold out long before the bareroot reason runs out. Shop early and avoid the rush.

TWO EXCEPTIONALLY fine roses, both hybrid teas, were chosen as the All America Award winners for 1963. And judging by advance orders for them, there definitely won't be enough to go around.

Tropicana, brightest of the AARS winners, is a blazing, orange-red rose of classic beauty. A tall, vigorous shrub, it showed good disease resistance in every climate where it was tested. The bloom is fragrant, as a classic rose should be, and long stemmed for cutting. Best of all, the blooms maintain their fluorescent orange-red coloring and don't fade, as so many blooming things do under the summer sun.

Tropicana has been highly honored. In addition to winning All America honors, it was given gold medals at Portland and Geneva as well as the gold medal of the National Rose Society of England. Few roses in history have done better than this in international competition.

The second AARS selection for 1963 is Royal Highness, which is another classic rose of pink coloring—a glistening pink. Royal Highness has perfectly formed buds, which open slowly to their full beauty.

THE BLOOMS are heavily fragrant, which makes them that much nicer, and are held upright on strong stems. The shrub itself is smaller than Tropicana, well proportioned, and with dark, glossy foliage.

There are reasons for giving first attention to the All America Rose Selections, for they were chosen for honors only after extensive trials in test gardens all over the United States. They have proved themselves time and time again to be the best of the breed.

There are others, however, that barely miss out and are often deserving of top honors in some, if not all of the different areas where they are tested. One especially good one for 1963, which proved an excellent rose in California, is Chicago Peace, a sport of the famous Peace rose, which has won so many honors for itself.

Chicago Peace is a glistening pink hybrid tea with yellow, or occasionally copper, coloring at the base of the petals. It is very free flowering, producing a succession of bloom on strong, upright shrubs.

THERE WILL be a rush to order Chicago Peace as well as the AARS winners, which is why we recommend shopping early. If you should miss out on one or all of them, however, CAN nurserymen can show you many others that are new and exciting.

Then, too, you can always take a new look at some old AARS winners—especially those of last year. As you may recall, there were four AARS selections last year—two hybrid teas, a floribunda and a grandiflora. They were in short supply then, but you'll find an increased number of them for this bareroot season.

The hybrid teas were Christian Dior, an elegant crimson rose, and Kings Ransom, a rich chrome yellow. The grandiflora was John Armstrong, a rich, deep red which blooms profusely in the manner of grandifloras; and the floribunda was Golden Slippers, an orange-gold beauty. As most rosarians know, these winners of last year and yesteryear are still winners when it comes to beauty and performance.

Which is why you can buy any rose with the AARS tag on it and not go wrong.

Easy Way to Clean Blinds

Is there an easy way to clean Venetian blinds?

This is a case where you can use preventive care . . . by keeping the slats slightly tilted they will collect less dust. Dust often, using a vacuum cleaner attachment. If you're dusting by hand, use a cloth in each hand or wear soft, cotton gloves.

To wash the slats use a solution of warm water and a mild, synthetic detergent or commercial paint cleaner. Rinse and wipe dry. Tilt the slats forward so your wrists will be in a comfortable position while working.

After you've thoroughly cleaned the blinds, a creamy type of wax may be applied. Mitts on both hands will speed the job and you can apply wax to both sides of the slats at the same time. Mitts with a thumb and forefinger can be made easily from soft cloth.

Occasionally, it may be advisable to have your Venetian blinds cleaned by a commercial serviceman.

Gussy Up Your Baked Potatoes

Even a baked potato can take on a holiday air—if you spend the necessary moments to dress it up. Beef stock base makes the taste difference here — together with instant toasted onions (no tears) and grated cheese.

SAVORY STUFFED BAKED POTATOES
- 6 medium-sized baking potatoes
- ⅓ cup of light cream
- 4 tablespoons of butter
- 2 tablespoons of instant toasted onions
- 4 teaspoons of beef stock base
- 1 cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese

Scrub potatoes, oil skins and bake in 400° F. oven until done. Cut a thin slice off the top and scoop out potato into bowl. Heat cream, add butter. Mash potatoes, beat in hot cream and butter then stir in toasted onions and beef stock base. Fill potato shells with potato mixture. Top with grated cheese. Return to oven until hot and cheese is melted.

LOW UPKEEP

To keep your upkeep costs down on wood siding, use a rough-sawn texture western red cedar and stain it. You should not have to apply the second coat before eight to 10 years.

Sun Home and Garden

Shoot Lots of Color Into Your Late Winter Garden

Unless you plan it differently, your late winter garden is apt to be on the drab side.

A camellia or two will be showing color and here or there, an azalea. But how about the bright splashes of color which only bedding plants can give? You won't get these unless you plant them in time, which means immediately, if not sooner.

Certain bedding plants set out now will be dishing up bouquets for cutting well in advance of the normal flush of spring bloom. So check in with a local member of the California Association of Nurserymen and see which of the following are best adapted for your area.

ICELAND POPPIES are among the surest (and brightest) of bedders for winter display. Their long stems support crinkled cups of orange, white, yellow, pink, red or cream colors — a dazzling array in any season and all the brighter because of the rain and cool weather which they buck up against.

Iceland poppies are often already in bloom when you find them in CAN nurseries, so the wait for their color is no longer than the drive back home. Plant them in a sunny spot in a loose, well-drained soil. You'll be blooms ahead if you add a bit of fertilizer. Any all-purpose food will do. Just put a bit under each plant before you set it out, but never in direct contact with the roots.

AS EVER, when weather is cool, the viola family figures into the picture. You could have planted these two or three months ago and be enjoying their bloom in a month or less. As with the Iceland poppy, violas often show color when you buy them in nurseries, so you really have a minimum wait.

Violas are available in four primary colors—yellow, blue, apricot and white. Mix them if you will, but not indiscriminately. The effect is best when you plant plots of one color and mix the plots up rather than mixing individual plants.

They make excellent covers for bulb beds and should be planted over daffodils and tulips, first to contrast with their bloom, then to hide the bulb foliage when it goes through the long process of ripening off. Violas are long blooming and will still be showing color next summer if you keep the flowers cut back in the meantime.

CALENDULAS ARE excellent bets for late winter color and the gardener who thinks of them as warm weather annuals only will be surprised to find them doing better in the cool of winter and early spring. Mildew, an occasional problem with summer-grown calendulas, is non-existent in the cooler months. The blooms are larger, and by contrast with the weather they are brighter than they ever seem in summer.

You buy calendulas in mixed colors only — colors which are vastly improved over the old standard yellow and orange of the early pot marigolds. The new Beauty Mix gives you striking orange tones and creamy yellows which will be a feature in and out of your house a month or six weeks from now.

THE RELATIVELY little-grown English daisy is another color bearer for late winter gardens, its color being snowy white, pink or rose. There is scarcely a better plant for edging walks or filling small beds. The flowers are not unlike pompon chrysanthemums, except their height is seldom over six inches and often less.

English daisies are also good for planting over bulb beds or for bordering a bulb bed with color. They may also be planted with other annuals, doing especially well with violas, pansies and forget-me-nots. Long blooming, they will start in cool weather and continue showing color into summer. They can stand full sun in winter, but if you want them through summer better give them a bit of shade.

STILL ANOTHER annual which can be counted on for winter bloom is the Primula Malacoides, or Fairy primrose. These are excellent for edgings and find their main use in that way.
